Promises More Bus Service

Ready to Act, Official Says

Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., said today Maple Lake area residents will get the bus service they desire as soon as certain streets in the area are passable.

Meanwhile Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison announced he and city council's traffic committee will inspect the proposed route change in the Maple Lake area, and if they find the roads are passable, the bus company will be given permission to make route changes immediately.

E. L. Hukill, vice president of the bus company, said when work on Coleman road and Euclid avenue is finished, the company will be "ready, willing and able to supply the area with the service it desires."

The city engineer's office reported Coleman road has been paved and Street Supt. E. W. Davis said Euclid avenue is passable.

APPROVAL GIVEN

Hukill said at a meeting of bus and city officials about 60 days ago, it was agreed that when the streets are in passable condition, Service-Safety Director Garrison would give his approval to the route changes and they would be put into effect.

Hukill denied that petitions for service from the residents of the Maple Lake area were ever "consigned to the wastebasket" as they charged at Tuesday night's council meeting.

He explained the situation this way:

"During the war years, and for a time thereafter, we did have numerous petitions from Maple Lake area residents for service, but due to the fact we were under control of the ODT, which refused to permit any additions of bus service except to plants directly engaged in the war effort, no changes could be made.

FACILITIES LACKING

"After the expiration of ODT regulations and as a result of shortage of equipment, manpower, etc., we did not have the necessary facilities to provide extensions."

Hukill's letter then pointed out that as a result of the survey of rider habits made by the Engineering Survey corporation . . . it was decided service should be provided in the Maple lake area.

"In the meantime, we were practically wiped out by a fire which destroyed 16 buses and our entire garage and maintenance facilities. This served to further slow up and complicate our plans."

The proposed route changes follow:

A combination of the South Main-Reformatory runs, the North Main-Glessner runs, with certain modifications and a re-routing of the Park avenue west run.

The latter line would run from Fourth and Main streets to Park avenue west, then west to Glenwood boulevard, south to Maple street, east to Westwood avenue, south to Highland avenue, west to Euclid avenue, south to Coleman road, west to Taylor road, north to Maple street, west to Linden road and north to Park avenue west.

Higher Taxes Seen By Dems

WASHINGTON, — (UP) — Key senate democrats said today the government may have to raise tax rates if it is to stay out of the red next year.

Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia, incoming chairman of the senate finance committee, told a reporter that a final answer on higher taxes would have to wait until President Truman sends congress his budget for the 1950 fiscal year, which starts July 1.

However, George indicated his belief that increased foreign and military spending and new domestic programs could force the government into the red column and make higher tax rates probable.

Snow Glazes Streets In City; 10-Degree Cold Due Tonight

Cop Finds Self With Hands Full

BOSTON — (UP) — Police Sgt. John D. Holmes, inspecting the Roxbury tavern belt, strolled into an ale-house and noted the man on the first stool was asleep.

He aroused him and started to escort him out for a little fresh air. As he did so, the second-stool patron toppled from his precarious perch to the floor.

Stool-occupant No. 3 fell on top of No. 2.

No. 2 then was arrested for drunkenness.

And one of the tavern keepers, reading a complaint Holmes lodged against the place, had a heart seizure and fell dead.

President Hits Snag

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman's demand that the new House abolish its committee on un-American activities today ran into a stone wall of opposition on Capitol Hill.

Mr. Truman may suffer defeat on this issue on Jan. 3 despite his sensational victory in the presidential race only last November.

Both southern Democrats and northern Republicans expressed doubt that the president can summon enough votes in the new House to abolish the committee. Most members, now in Washington, believe the committee has won the respect of the American people by its recent exposures of a communist spy ring operating within the government.

The president, in again blasting the committee as a "red herring," called it a dead committee. Asked how it would be eliminated, he replied that Congress itself will take care of that.

Mr. Truman meant that some administration leader would move next Jan. 3, when the house meets to organize, to expunge the committee from its rolls. That will take a majority vote of the House.

COMMENDS GROUP

Rep. Rankin (D) Miss., who fathered the committee in 1945, declared:

"By all means, the committee should be perpetuated. It has done as much, if not more, to expose the enemies within our gates than any other agency of the government.

"Regardless of what may be said about Whittaker Chambers, the fact remains that we have uncovered more than one hundred documents which were stolen from the state department for the purpose of passing them on to foreign governments in the most critical period of the nation's history."

Rep. Clarence Brown (R) Ohio, observed:

"I don't think the administration will have the votes to kill that committee. If they try it, it will be quite a fight."

Swan Leaves Ice-Enclosed Pool In Lake

The "widowed" swan in the lake at North Park is in no danger of being cut off from food or shelter, Park Supt. Frank Burton said today.

Yesterday, skidding temperatures froze the surface water and left the graceful bird marooned in a tiny pool of ice-surrounded water. Today, Burton said he saw the swan walking around on the ice.

Burton said the swan is capable of getting out of the icy waters and going to the duck shelter where food is provided. He added that if the water is completely frozen over, the swan will be taken to the duck house for protection.

The female, companionless for two years, lost her mate when youngsters inflicted fatal head wounds with stones and B-B shot.

Frigid Wave Headed For Mansfield

Only Minor Mishaps Reported In Area

Mansfielders got their first taste of the 1948-'49 winter today as snow-swept streets and byroads created a threat to early morning motorists.

The light blanket of snow which began falling late last night covered Mansfield by the early morning hours. And weathermen say more snow is on the way.

The mercury is expected to plunge to 10 above tonight in the Mansfield area, weathermen said. While only snow flurries were forecast today, more snow is on the weather menu for tomorrow afternoon or night. Less than a half inch of snow fell.

At least two persons died as a result of the icy highways. Mrs. Margaret Hill, 18, of Columbus, was killed instantly when the car in which she was riding skidded on a slippery road north of Columbus and crashed into a truck. Cornis Pierce, 27, East Sparta, was killed in a crash near Harrisburg, Stark county.

Patrolmen at the Mansfield Highway Patrol post said roads in the Mansfield area were "good" at noon. Officers added that all slippery spots have been cindered.

However, the snowfall found crews of the highway department in many counties and cities unprepared. Crews belatedly spread salt and cinders in an effort to facilitate traffic.

One city street department crew was in action at 3:30 a. m., salting intersections and hills in the business district. At 7 a. m.,

Asks Israel Recognition

Churchill Also Backs Spain

LONDON, — (UP) — Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill recommended in the House of Commons today that Britain recognize the governments of Israel and Spain.

Churchill spoke in the House of Commons on the second day of debate on foreign affairs. The leader of the conservative opposition ranged the whole field of controversial situations in the world. Recommending recognition of Israel, Churchill said the Jews had set up a functioning government, they had a victorious army, and they had the support of both Russia and the United States.

These may be unpleasant facts, but can they be disputed?" He asked the house. "It seems to me the government of Israel cannot be ignored. We should send a representative to Tel Aviv without delay."

Churchill then said he saw "no reason why Spain should be excluded from the United Nations any longer, or why our vote should be cast in favor of their exclusion."

GAMBLE WINS—Edward J. Hickey of Pomeroy, Pa., appealed to medical specialists to experiment on his daughter, Hope, 9, after she had been given a year at the most to live. The gamble won and today Hickey is preparing to take Hope to her home for the best Christmas the family ever had. Doctors at the Canadian Heart Foundation, London, Ontario, provided the miracle for which the father gambled.—(AP Wirephoto)

Brighten A Christmas

Elderly Folk Face A Lonely Holiday

Christmas, traditionally one of the most joyful times of year, can also be the loneliest, particularly to the aged.

Memories of bygone years, when friends and relatives joined together on Christmas day for a family dinner and exchange of gifts, serve to brighten the day for a time, but as one grows older the memories can also accentuate the absence of family and friends now.

There are a number of aged people in Mansfield facing a lonely Christmas Day. A few gifts would re-kindle for them the enthusiasm and anticipation with which most people welcome the holiday.

There is the elderly spinster, who, though permanently crippled, manages to visit homes in her neighborhood selling cosmetics for a living. A pretty sweater, a pair of warm gloves or a woolen head scarf could brighten her Christmas immeasurably.

An elderly woman, whose husband just died last spring, finds life very lonesome. She receives an old-age pension with which to purchase food and the necessities but somehow it's easier to just not eat rather than prepare meals for one. A ready-cooked Christmas dinner would make her day much brighter.

A 63-year-old widow who is nearly blind has no children to visit her on Christmas Day, but a few brightly-wrapped gifts from some kind friend would fill her small house with cheer.

A man and his wife, nearly 70 years old, also old-age pensioners, would find excellent use for a cash gift. They are both deeply religious, and reading the Bible daily provides them with the inspiration to enjoy their life to the fullest.

Another couple, the man physically unable to work due to his age, have been life-long residents of Mansfield. The wife tries to supplement their pension funds by washing dishes in local restaurants, but after a few days has to relinquish her jobs. She is in her late sixties, and the work is too hard for her.

There are no children. He would appreciate a carton of cigarets, she would be so grateful for any little gift that would be given to her.

These are only a few of the aged people in Mansfield whose Christmas could be made much brighter through the generosity of some kind person.

If you care to cheer up any of these persons call Mrs. Margaret Mattox at the News-Journal office, 4251-6, daily, except Sunday, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Ohio Public Health Program Ranks Low

COLUMBUS, — (INS) — Ohio was ranked right next to the bottom today in public health work.

U. S. Deputy Surgeon General W. Palmer Dearing said: "Ohio spends about 10 cents per capita for public health work. The national average of state expenditures for public health is about 50 cents per capital. On this basis, Ohio ranks forty-seventh among the 48 states in public health effort."

Reds Block Rights Bill For World

U. N. Session Nearing End

PARIS—(UP)—Russia attempted today to block United Nations approval of the universal declaration of human rights as the General assembly went into its last 48 hours of the Paris meeting.

Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky bitterly attacked the clause giving everyone everywhere the right to freedom of opinion and expressed in a long debate on the declaration which kept the general assembly in session until early this morning.

Vishinsky demanded that the assembly postpone discussion of the human rights declaration until next September's session. However, the assembly was scheduled to continue the battle when it meets at 10:30 a. m. (4:30 a. m. EST) today.

As soon as the assembly has finished with the human rights declaration it is scheduled to take up Palestine and Korea in that order. There were grave doubts that final action could be taken on either before adjournment tomorrow night.

Seven influential UN members submitted formal amendments to the Anglo-American Palestine conciliation plan today which would junk all references to the recommendations of the late Count Folke Bernadotte.

Meanwhile Israel broke a stalemate by agreeing to release a force of 2,000 Egyptians trapped at Faluja in the Negev desert.

The UN announced that President David Ben Gurion of Israel had agreed to negotiate with the UN on freeing the Egyptians "by stages," as proposed by Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting Palestine mediator.

Diplomats hoped that the Israeli move would clear the way for fullfledged armistice negotiations between the Arabs and Jews on the entire Palestine military situation.

Ben Gurion, in a message he ordered sent to Bunche, emphasized that Israel would release the encircled Egyptian troops on the understanding that Egypt was committed to discussing a Palestine armistice.

Being Gun Moll Only Joy In Life

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — A pretty 17-year-old girl said today the only fun she had ever had out of life was being the gun moll for a five-man holdup gang.

Florence Garrity, a brunette wearing a coat trimmed with leopard fur, told police that all her life she had been shunted back and forth between her divorced parents and an aunt.

When she was arrested yesterday she had two guns in her purse. Police charged her with carrying dangerous weapons, but said they did not believe she had any part in the 20 holdups charged to the gang.

Memorial Drive Set In Motion

The first organized effort to provide Richland county with a combined auditorium-field house as a living war memorial was set in motion last night.

The drive has been started by the Richland county Joint Veterans commission, which met last night with community leaders.

John Clements was appointed to outline the procedure to be followed by a committee which will delve further into the proposal.

Clements was instructed to make a "breakdown procedure" for the committee to follow as to the cost, maintenance and other matters connected with the building of the proposed memorial.

Roslyne Todd, president of the commission, appointed Clements, and asked him to make a report at the next meeting, Jan. 26. Following his report, Todd said he would appoint four others to work with Clements in making a complete study and investigation.

That committee, Todd said, will be instructed to find what the proposed building should contain, its probable cost, the possibilities of raising money through solicitations and, at the same time, contact 274 organizations in the county which have expressed interest in the proposed war memorial.

NEED CITED

The commission has undertaken a proposal to build such a project as a war memorial and because, in the words of Todd, "there is no place in Mansfield large enough for indoor recreation activities."

Attending the meeting in the VFW clubrooms were representatives of industry, labor, the professions, civic and other groups in addition to those representatives from veteran organizations who are on the commission.

A suggestion that the proposed structure might be a duplication was offered by W. C. Mead, who pointed out the Mansfield board of education, as a result of passage of the last bond issue, has plans for constructing a high school field house with a capacity of about 4,000.

Harold W. Arlin, president of the board of education, said there are plans for building the field house, but nothing definite would

Cite Liquor 'Shakedown'

Attorneys Offer Letter Evidence

CIRCLEVILLE —(INS)— Two attorneys who charged liquor department "agents" with attempting to shake down four Circleville permit holders for $1,800 for "protection" offered to give their evidence to Liquor Director Dale Dunifon today.

They stated, however, that "we have this information for Mr. Dunifon alone. We will not do business with Geyer" Don Geyer is the chief of the liquor enforcement section of the liquor department.

The attorneys have been retained by Circleville Police Chief William McGrady, who was charged by liquor department agents with refusing to accompany them on a raid on the Moose club.

They claimed that the club already had sent its permit back to Columbus, and exhibited a letter they said was a receipt for the license, dated November 9 and apparently signed by Robert Woods, chief of the permit section.

Woods, however, denied that the permit had been received and insisted it was not in his files. The stenographic note at the bottom of the disputed letter was "MGT/MJW."

Housing Funds Misuse Probed

COLUMBUS—(UP)—A special Franklin county grand jury was convened today to receive additional information gathered during the past nine months on the alleged misuse of state funds intended for veterans housing in the county.

Prosecution evidence will be presented to the grand jury by chief counsel E. G. Schuessler and assistant Attorney General Joseph S. Gill. The grand jury, when first convened last February, was asked by Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins to investigate the $337,637 expenditure of state funds in Franklin county for veterans housing.

15 Others Severely Injured

Aid Delayed For 2 Hours

TOPEKA, Kans.—(UP)—The death toll in the explosions which rocked the Tecumseh power station of the Kansas Power and Light company rose to nine today with the death of one of sixteen persons hospitalized with injuries.

The latest victim was identified by police as H. F. Shay, a company employe who died of burns.

Crews still worked to clear the debris inside the building, but R. W. McClure, vice president of the Kansas Power and Light company, said he felt sure that no more bodies would be found.

In addition to the 15 injured workers sent to hospitals, about 20 were treated for minor injuries at the scene.

The explosions late yesterday cut off electric power to this capital city of 90,000 persons for more than two hours. Small communities served by the plant throughout Northeastern Kansas also were affected.

The cause of the blasts still had not been determined. At first it was believed one or more of the major generating station's six huge boilers had exploded, but they were found intact.

Workers said they had smelled gas at the plant for several days, and it was believed an accumulation of coal gas might have exploded.

The two thunderous blasts were followed by fire. Some of the dead were killed instantly by the explosion or crushed by heavy steel beams hurled down on them. Others were burned.

HELP DELAYED

Flames and smoke hampered rescuers, and it was almost an hour and a half before the first of the injured were brought from the building. Firemen said they could hear the screams of the injured through the flames.

"It seemed like help would never come," said Kenneth Hahn, one of the injured.

The red brick structure is situated five miles from Topeka, and it was almost two hours after the blast that the first ambulance load of injured arrived at Christ's hospital.

The hospital itself, was without power or light. Doctors and nurses worked over the injured by flashlight or under the flickering glow of cigarette lighters.

The heaviest damage at the plant was confined to the ground floor and basement. The structure is equivalent in height to a seven-story building, but there are no other floors.

The force of the blast rumbled outward and upward, blowing off part of the roof, twisting the girders overhead and smashing the windows and skylight.

Rail Unions Seek Action

WASHINGTON — (INS — Rail union leaders indicated today that the new Democratic-controlled Congress may also be asked to revise the railway labor act in addition to repealing the Taft-Hartley law.

Brotherhood chiefs representing one and a half million railroad workers decided at a meeting in Washington to set up a special committee to study possible changes in the act which has governed industrial relations on the railroads for two decades.

Arthur E. Lyon, executive secretary of the Railway Labor Executives association, said the rail unions have "no specific proposals" to make yet and the special study committee will not report before mid-February.

Lyon hinted strongly, however, that the rail brotherhoods may seek an amendment to the railway labor statute to permit union shop contracts with the nation's carriers. Such union security measures are banned at present just as the Taft-Hartley law prohibits the closed shop. The rail unions are exempt from coverage of the Taft-Hartley act.

Farm Labor Study Topic of Meeting

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Spokesmen for farm employers across the nation meet with federal officials today to map a program for recruitment of foreign workers for the 1949 harvest.

Attending the session will be representatives of the State Department, the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, the U. S. Employment Service and a five-man subcommittee chosen from the special National Farm Labor Advisory committee.

Mansfield Planes to Join In Sunday 'Attack'

Air Units Test Strength on Ohio 'Bombing' Mission

Mansfield's 321st Bomb Group will join with active air reserves of four other cities Sunday morning in a simulated bombing mission covering 160 miles in northcentral Ohio.

Cut to the pattern of war maneuvers, the "run" will be staged as an example of the state's air strength should the country be attacked by enemy forces.

Maj. H. E. Odell, intelligence officer with the 321st Air Reserve, said all pilots participating in the mission will be briefed before the 10:55 a. m. mission. Used in the briefing will be a situation map of the bomb run and photo reconnaissance pictures of the "primary, secondary and last resort" targets.

The major said "interference" from 30 planes from the Cleveland Reserve unit is anticipated on the bombing run. Serving as the "enemy force," the Cleveland planes will attempt to break up formation of the attacking planes and to disperse the attacks from the targets.

Maj. Odell said no missiles will be used in the bomb run. Successful bombing or strafing will be achieved by the planes reaching and covering the targets.

Forty-two planes, besides the Cleveland group, will form the attack. They will include 12 planes from the Mansfield Air Reserve unit, 12 from the 82nd Troop Carrier Squadron, Air Force Reserve of Columbus; six planes from the 445th Bomb Squadron, Air Force Reserve of Toledo, and 12 planes from the 433rd Troop Carrier Squadron, Air Force Reserve of Akron.

Primary targets will be the Wheeling air base and railway bridge at Steubenville. Separate groups of planes will rendezvous at Millersburg at 10:25 a. m. at 3,500 feet. Initial point for the mission will be Smithfield to where all planes will converge and where formations will be made up to start the attack.

At Smithfield, near Steubenville, the Mansfield and Toledo groups will break away from the main formation and attack the Wheeling air base. Attacking planes will bomb and strafe all air base installations from low level, the major said.

While the Mansfield and Toledo groups are attacking the air base, the Akron and Columbus groups will hit the railroad bridge at Steubenville.

Maj. Odell said all air force regulations will be followed and the mission, featuring low level bombing and strafing, will be complete in all details.

Thirteen men from the Mansfield area will participate in the mission. They include: Maj. James R. McConnell, Capt. Charles A. Swain, Capt. Richard Farnsworth, First Lt. Francis L. Bunn and Second Lt. Charles W. Essick of Mansfield; First Lt. Richard L. Pittinger and First Lt. Charles S. Kaler of Shelby; First Lt. Gilbert A. Priestley and Second Lt. Wayne E. Buehler of Wooster; First Lt. Harry E. McCormick of Galion and Second Lts. Frank R. Carpenter and Clyde H. Hosey of Marion.

New Stamp Put on Sale

A three-cent Joel Chandler Harris commemorative stamp went on sale at the Mansfield post office today. The post office has received 21,000 of the stamps which are issued in sheets of 70 subjects.

The stamp was issued Wednesday through the post office at Eatonton, Ga., in honor of Joel Chandler Harris, noted author of the "Uncle Remus" stories. The printing of 60,000,000 stamps has been authorized.

The central design of the stamp shows a portrait of Harris in an oval frame against a background of Colonial design. At the base of the portrait are a closed book, a scroll, quill pen, and inkwell, all symbols of an author.

The words "Joel Chandler Harris," appear in a panel at the bottom of the stamp. Across the top are the words, "United States Postage." The denomination appears in two lines in an ornamental shield-shaped panel in the lower right corner.

Collectors desiring stamps for philatelic use should contact the Philatelic Agency, Washington, D. C.

Winds of 28 to 34 miles per hour are called moderate gales.

'A' Cage Casualties Mount as Leaders Bow

The tightest City A league race in years was in prospect today as no less than five teams were tied for the league lead at the end of two weeks of play.

Rogers Jewelry and Martin Hardware, the only remaining undefeated teams, were upset last night, leaving them tied with Ohio Sport Center, Urschel Insurance, and Yuncker's. All have two victories against one defeat.

Richland Beverage notched its first victory by spilling Roger's Jewelry, 34-28, last night at John Simpson, while Penn Auto upset Martin Hardware, 36-29, and Sport Center edged Komito's 35-33.

The Sport Center team had to make the biggest comeback, tallying nine points in the final period while holding Komito's scoreless. Jack Hammett was the big gun in the spurt, dropping in six of the nine points.

Lewis Snavely of Penn Auto was the leading scorer of the night with 14 points. Hammett, Bud Ford of Richland Beverage, and Jake Berberick of Ohio Sport Center all pumped in 12 points.

Ring Television Will Prove Boon To Boxing Game

NEW YORK —(UP)— Coast-to-coast television of boxing will prove a boon to promoters, boxers and fight fans, says the man who's going to try it next year, Larry Atkins.

Atkins, a Cleveland promoter, is president of the newly-organized Sports Television, Inc.

"We have five big time promoters lined up," Atkins said today.

"We will represent both the promoters and the sponsors through the television people. Ray Arcel and I now are in the process of signing a five-year exclusive contract with Columbia Broadcasting System.

"Under our setup a promoter will be able to outbid Madison Square Garden for a bout, even if he cannot hope to approach the Garden's net gate. He will have the extra money from television."

Leahy to Remain At Notre Dame

LOS ANGELES —(U.P.)—Frank Leahy insisted today that he will remain as Notre Dame's football coach as long as he "can render any service."

Leahy is now completing the third year of a 10-year pact with the South Bend, Ind., university, but reports have been persistent that he will soon quit to join the professional ranks, coach at some other college, or retire because of poor health.

Dave Lumsden, Michigan State College football center also is the center on the school's basketball five.

Citation Seen Starter In Tanforan Handicap

SAN BRUNO, Cal.—(U.P.)—Citation and six long-shots today appeared sure to go to the post in Saturday's $50,000 Tanforan handicap with the entry of two other horses still considered possible.

The condition of the track, which was muddy earlier in the week, will determine whether the E. O. Stice and Son thoroughbred, On Trust, will join the band of horses trying to beat the Calumet Farm flash. Please Me also is a possible starter in the mile and one-quarter test.

Ohio Set For Big Deer Hunt

15,000 Hunters Take to Fields

COLUMBUS — (ENS) — "Meat on the table!"

That's the cry which will ring out Monday when about 15,000 Ohio hunters take to the fields for the five-day hunting season that's expected to put 1,500 to 2,000 of the beasts on the nimrods' platters.

And, Mom, if you're wondering how to fix that luscious venison set your mind at rest. You can cook it just like pot roast or stew. Or you can make cakes or cutlets.

Pop shouldn't have to much trouble providing the wherewithal, either. He can shoot from 9 a. m. to four p. m. in 15 counties, five more than last year. And he won't have two days of his time cut off by the archers this year.

The conservation commission has opened up Summit, Stark, Mahoning Harrison and Tuscarawas counties in addition to those on last year's list, composed of Geauga, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Lake, Portage, Columbiana and Carroll counties.

The commission decided to move the archers right in with the regular hunters this year, because there were so few of the bow and arrow boys out in 1947. Besides, deer is best hunted when someone beats the bush a bit, and they should have better hunting if the guys with the guns are out there tramping around.

According to the rules, those guns can be only shotgun type, loaded with pumpkin ball or rifle slug and the archers must use 40-pound bows with barbless arrows. No mean pull, that.

Deer hunting permits cost five dollars in addition to the regular dollar and a quarter hunting license worn on the back. They can be had at the main conservation office in Columbus, from the clerk of courts in any county where deer hunting is allowed, from any game protector, or from any of the commission's district offices at Ottawa, Tiffin, Twinsburg, Cambridge, Columbus, Urbana and Waverly.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Immigrant Germans Unwelcome

Cast-Offs Seek Homes In Vain

By DON DOANE

PASSAU, Germany— (AP) —Andreas Beinschrott clumped into the office of the crowded refugee camp on two wooden legs and a pair of crutches.

He said he had hitch-hiked to Germany from Hungary.

In the office were Frau Therese Wener and her eight-year-old daughter, who had just arrived from Yugoslavia. Stefan Schauer, just in from Hungary. Alex Staller, from Budapest. And a woman without shoes who claimed to have come from Yugoslavia.

All had traveled much of the way by foot. Most were penniless.

All were of German blood. They are "Volksdeutsche"—the Germans formerly living in neighboring countries who have been dumped back into Germany by the hundreds of thousands since the war.

They are unwanted, vainly seeking homes in the land of their ancestors.

For the first two years after the war, these Volksdeutsche were shipped back to Germany in large, organized transports. International agreements covered their expulsion from Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Yugoslavia. Special trains were provided. Receiving centers were set up and they were resettled by plan in cities and villages throughout Germany.

Now they come in by foot. They slip across the German borders by night. Most wind up in overcrowded camps with little prospect of finding any other home for many months.

Overcrowded Germany wants none of them. The native Germans have little enough food and too few houses for themselves.

Camp Schalding, near the Austrian and Czech borders, is the first stop in Germany for these unwelcome immigrants.

Japanese 'Forget' Pearl Harbor Day

TOKYO — (UP) — The anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack passed here without incident or notice and the only comment on the subject by Japanese was in response to questions by foreigners.

Apparently the Japanese want to forget the whole thing—and hope the rest of the world will too. Not one of the large Japanese newspapers mentioned Pearl Harbor, the beginning of World War II.

Pay Scale Up In Ohio

WASHINGTON, — (AP) — Ohio's average wage for public school teachers is $2,900 a year, the National Education association said Tuesday.

This figure is $150 above the national average, and represents a $50 increase over the Ohio average of last year.

The statistics cover all classroom teachers, principals and supervisors. Elementary teachers in Ohio average $2,600 a year, while secondary teachers average $3,100, the NEA added.

Teachers' pay, the NEA continued, has not kept pace with other professions. In 1940 teachers averaged $150 more a year than the average earnings of all employed persons in the country. In 1947—latest year comparable figures are available—teachers' pay was $250 less than this average.

Court of Appeals To Hear Escapers

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Three fugitives from southern road gangs have been granted a stay of extradition by the court of appeals, keeping them out of the hands of Alabama and Florida officers until the court hears their pleas of prison camp cruelty.

Frederick Fox, 21, who fled here from Florida, and Robert Frank Woodall, 31, and Eugene Quillian, 27, who fled Alabama road camps, were allowed an indefinite postponement of their return to prison sentences. All are in Cuyahoga county jail.

State Group Refuses 'Streamlining'

Plan Not What Was Ordered

Proposal Report Due December 29

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The Ohio Salary Study commission refused today to accept a "surprise" plan for centralizing the state government.

The plan proposed elimination of the elective offices of secretary of state, attorney general and treasurer. The state auditor's duties would be chopped down and numerous state departments and commissions eliminated.

Their duties would be concentrated in a department of administration headed by a director appointed by the governor who would serve four years instead of two.

The plan was drafted by the Public Administration Service of Chicago, a private outfit hired by the study commission to conduct salary and personnel studies.

Commission members said it wasn't what they ordered. They wanted instead a report on overstaffing and understaffing of state offices. A sub-committee will report on the proposal to the commission Dec. 29.

Commission Chairman C. William O'Neill, speaker of the House of Representatives, said the subcommittee will decide by then whether a supplemental report along the lines requested will be demanded.

The commission accepted a previous salary and personnel survey by the Chicago firm. It recommended an overall 7.8 per cent pay increase for state employes costing about $4,900,000.

The legislature appropriated $70,000 for the surveys. They will cost about $65,000. Commission recommendations based on them will be submitted to the legislature convening Jan. 3 and to the governor.

The government reorganization "surprise package" was aimed at economy for Ohioans, said H. G. Pope, executive director of the survey service.

He said Ohio spends more than $265,000,000 yearly to run the state government. Its 35,000 employes and extensive operations make it bigger than most corporations, he added.

"Analysis of the present structure of the Ohio state government indicates that it is probably above average among the several states" Pope said.

Some of the proposed governmental changes would require revision of the state constitution. Those proposals would be placed on election ballots for voters to say whether they should be carried out.

five other crews went to work.

One particular headache developed at First and Diamond streets about 6 p. m. yesterday. A water line broke and water started seeping onto the street. It froze as soon as it hit the surface, and the street department's night crew had to keep the area salted all night.

A water department repair team fixed the break this morning. State-wide reports said Cleveland had the heaviest snow with an official inch. Only a trace of snow fell in Cincinnati.

DOWN TO 15

Temperatures throughout the state ranged from 15 to 34 degrees during the early morning hours. Official low reading for the city today was 20 degrees at 7 a. m. By noon the mercury had risen only two degrees.

The pre-winter cold wave sent the mercury tumbling to mid-winter marks over parts of the north-central states today.

The temperature dropped to 25 below at Pembina, N. D. Below zero readings were reported over the eastern Dakotas and parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa. The cold air extended eastward to the Ohio Valley and lower readings were forecast for the eastern sections of the north central states.

Early morning readings in the cold belt included -17 at Duluth, Minn., -14 at Alexandria, Minn.; -9 at Minneapolis, and -6 at Mason City, Ia. Temperatures moderated in the western Dakotas and Montana after yesterday's sub-zero mark.

The five-day extended weather forecast:

Temperatures will average about two degrees below normal for the period, rather cold Saturday and Sunday, warmer Monday, colder Tuesday, some snow late Saturday or Sunday, rain or snow about Tuesday, total precipitation about one-half inch.

Americans Spending Less For Christmas

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The American people apparently are spending less on Christmas shopping this year than they did last year, or they're more inclined to wait until the last minute.

The Federal Reserve board reported that department store sales for the week ended Dec. 4 were four per cent lower than in the same week last year. It was the fourth week in a row that there was a decline from the 1947 rate.

Study Plans For Memorial

be decided for at least six months.

One of the things to be looked into by the committee is the type of war memorial the various organizations want.

7,500 SEATS PLANNED

Plans so far formulated call for an auditorium and field house that would seat 7,500 persons, Todd said. The field house would have facilities for three basketball courts as well as a changeable floor for ice-skating.

The auditorium stage would be large enough to accommodate orchestras and shows, such as minstrels. And Todd pointed out the building would be open to everybody and not just veterans.

A resident who has preferred to remain anonymous has offered any one of three locations free to the commission, Todd told the group. He said all were desirable sites for the war memorial.

Besides the auditorium and field house the structure would contain locker and shower rooms and recreation and club rooms. It was pointed out that the Ice-capades and other big shows which usually miss Mansfield could thus be accommodated here.

Mead offered the suggestion that the commission contact industries and labor organizations to determine if they're willing to go along on the proposal. The memorial would be owned by the commission, which would be incorporated as a non-profit organization.

SEE COSTS PAID

In time, members hope the structure can become self-sustaining as a result of activities carried on there.

The committee, besides being instructed to return with figures as to the cost of the proposal, was asked to investigate how much that structure might duplicate the proposed high school field house.

Because of their helpfulness in last night's meeting eight men were asked, and agreed, to serve the commission in an advisory capacity.

Theye were W. C. Mead, Harold W. Arlin, Gilbert Vines, of the United Rubber Workers, CIO; John Fike, of the YMCA, Stanley Kamen, city recreation director; Roger Au, contractor; E. D. Gibson, and Thomas Zaugg. Others will be added, Todd said.

ANNOUNCE BIDDING

Projects Costing $29,785 Completed In County

17 Townships Get Road Help

Aiding townships with their road work was a part of the engineering department's work this year, and County Engineer Walter E. Rusk has placed the monetary value of the work just completed at $29,785.

Only Monroe township did not seek county work aid. Because of its excellent equipment, that township has been able to handle its road projects. Rusk described the work carried out by Monroe forces as "splendid."

The other 17 townships in Richland county asked for and received county aid with their road programs. The work is being paid for by the townships on an actual cost of operation basis.

Only about seven townships each year can expect work by county workmen on their road systems, Rusk explained. Because of that, he said the following townships have priority for work by county forces next year: Sharon, Jefferson, Monroe, Washington, Springfield, Weller, Franklin, Butler, Worthington and Perry. By adhering to such a schedule, Rusk said all areas can be treated fairly.

The eight townships in which most road work was done this year are Bloominggrove, Cass, Plymouth, Jackson, Mifflin, Madison, Sandusky and Troy.

Here's a breakdown of county accomplishments on township roads in 1948:

Butler township—Road patrol maintenance and dragging of roads, at a cost of $287.

Bloominggrove township — Berming of the Amstutz road and berming and ditching on the Cuppy, Latimer and west end of Wharton roads at a cost of $1,753.

Cass township—Berming of the Malone and Barnes roads, $1,729.

SPENDS $4,215

Plymouth township—Berming of Preston and Shoup roads, sealing of the Hazel-Brush road and graveling the berms at a cost of $4,215.

Jackson township — Berming, ditching and graveling of the Hawk road, costing $4,571.

Franklin township—Berming of the Chesrown road, $775.

Weller township—Dragging of roads, which cost $32.

Mifflin township—Grading of Beal road, at a cost of $2,013.

Madison township — Improvement of Geddis avnue, Hanna road culvert, and Vernon road, at a cost of $5,188.

Springfield township — Grading of Neff road, $504. The Friday road bridge was replaced at a cost of $2,100 but that was paid for out of county funds.

Sandusky township—Application of three coats of tar and stone to the Williamsport road and berming of Flowers road, $2,313.

Layoffs Hit Canton

CANTON —(AP)— Recent industrial layoffs here have affected 865 workers in three plants. Hoover company in North Canton, released 400. At the south division of Republic Steel corporation about 300 were laid off, but officials said they would be offered jobs in the Canton mill.

Half of Seal Funds Raised

The 1948 Christmas Seal drive has passed the half-way mark.

As of last night, the Richland County Tuberculosis association had collected $7,387 of the $14,500 quota, Mrs. H. C. Brokaw, county seal sale chairman, announced today.

Returns so far represent 50 per cent of this year's goal, Mrs. Brokaw said. The goal represents the minimum needed for the association's operating expenses during 1949, when the association plans to do mass x-rays free, continue case finding clinics and its rehabilitation program, she said.

Returns to date have been from county residents who were prompt in answering their seal sale letters," said Mrs. Brokaw. Although the seal sale continues until Dec. 25, we are doubly grateful when the returns come in early, before the post office becomes heavily burdened with the customary late rush of Christmas mail.

Prized Painting Found In Garage

MONROVIA, Calif. — (AP) — A painting, discovered in a dusty crate in a garage here, was identified by art dealers as one done three centuries ago by the famed Belgian artist Franz Snyders. They appraised it at from $4,000 to $5,000.

The find was made by James Moir as he cleaned the garage. It was bequeathed to Moir 25 years ago by George Ward, steamship company scoin. It is a picture of dead game.

SEE RECORD MAIL

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A mail handling force of nearly 11,000 workers—biggest in Cleveland's history—has been assembled by the post office in anticipation of a record avalanche of Christmas mail.

U. N. Gets Stomach Blow

PARIS —(INS)— The United Nations, already burdened with the cares of the world, ran into new difficulties Tuesday when dining room waiters at the Palais De Chaillot went on strike during the noon hour.

A nearby hotel supplied new teams of waiters and the hungry delegates thus did manage to eat.

Small picket lines were set up but no disturbances were reported.

Yesterday elevators throughout the palace were stopped and police were reported on the lookout for known communist agitators believed to be instigating the strikes.

Optimists See Color Slides On Japan

Color slides on life in Japan were shown the Optimist club at its weekly luncheon meeting yesterday noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The slides were accompanied by a lecture from R. J. Senger, who took the pictures during the time he spent in Japan as a civilian employe of the air force.

PAGE TEN MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1948

Suggestion is offered that, with present prices, all cook books be rewritten so as not to include butter.

At 38, it would seem that Errol Flynn, the movie actor, is considerably too old to claim leniency as a juvenile delinquent.

Those counterfeit $10 bills showing up over the country are said to be "almost perfect"—so maybe you'd better ask your banker how to be sure of getting genuine ones.

No Place To Detain Juvenile Culprits

SOME IDEA of the meaning of the word, "procrastination," is gained by thinking over the situation that has arisen in connection with last-minute efforts to provide a juvenile detention home, now that the Salvation Army board has fixed Dec. 31 as the final day for "temporary" use of quarters in that building.

It appears it was never intended that the Salvation Army citadel should serve permanently as a detention home for juvenile offenders, with the county making only a small payment for rental and supervision.

But continuance year after year was the easy way, and county commissioners are now faced with the emergency of doing something about it in the next couple of weeks.

As the matter now stands the county jail seems the only available place for temporary detention of juvenile culprits—and that would be bad. The county children's home is not the place—neither is the county infirmary (which has been suggested).

Proposal that children under detention be cared for in private homes would serve nicely with some of them, but not with those whose detention requires barred windows and locked doors, as well as constant supervision to guard against escape or destruction of property.

Since the present arrangement has extended through approximately 30 years it may seem that it could be briefly extended to allow more time for solution of the problem—but even in that event Old Man Procrastination would probably still exert such a hypnotic influence over the county commissioners that no prompt action could be assured.

Problem of Affording Medical Care

AS THE SUBJECT of government financing of a plan designed to extend needed medical, surgical, and hospital facilities to everyone—regardless of ability to pay—continues to be discussed, it is interesting to note an announcement that the American Medical Association proposes to raise a fund of $3,500,000 with which to fight any form of "compulsory sickness insurance" through a "nation-wide plan of education on the progress of American medicine."

There can be no doubt as to the progress of medicine and surgery in this country within the past few decades, and the great desire is to see its benefits more widely distributed.

Recognizing the validity of arguments of the medical profession against what it calls "socialized medicine," it cannot be disregarded that at least a few of its members indulge in practices which tend to weaken public confidence and which serve to strengthen the case of those who argue for some sort of government supervision.

An example of how fear is inspired in the minds of persons in moderate circumstances is seen in the following excerpt from an editorial in the Toledo Blade:

"Soured by frequently exorbitant surgical fees, the tendency for charging whatever the traffic will bear, on the part of some unscrupulous physicians, a growing feeling that medical practitioners are becoming more dedicated to their ledgers than to humanitarian motives, and worried—if neither very rich nor very poor—lest a severe illness or injury in the family result in economic crippling, much of the public sees great value in some form of health insurance made universally available."

It is pointed out that under present conditions many people fail to receive adequate medical attention because they cannot afford it, yet do not qualify for charity treatment, and that serious illness or accident within the family can take the savings of a lifetime.

As the medical profession, including those who specialize in surgery, prepares its case against what it regards as government encroachment in its field, it would be well to indulge in some self-analysis of weak spots, such as the one to which reference is made in the above paragraph quoted from the Toledo Blade.

Understanding Would Lessen Strife

AFTER a study of the subject, the industrial relations section of Princeton University concludes that factory managers would have less labor trouble if they told employes what the company was doing—or trying to do. This view is expressed in a report made by Miss Helen Baker, associate director, who finds that workers are told very little about management problems.

Some exceptions to this disattachment of management from workers have produced noteworthy results in betterment of employe-employer relations, and it may be wondered that the policy has not been more generally adopted.

The idea that all industries make tremendous profits contributes largely to dissatisfaction of workers and accounts for many strikes and slowdowns, as well as offering opportunity for agitators to stir up unrest.

In cases where profits are shown to be excessive, lower prices are obviously the right answer, but when no more than reasonable profits are derived from the operation of an industry or business, this fact should be known to workers and should be taken into account in advance of demands for wage increases.

An item is to the effect that a carnival performer in the South can turn his head completely around—which seems advantageous at the moment in that area.

The idea is now going around that the Taft-Hartley law, under some other name, will be similar.

Some folks seem to be waiting for atomic energy rather than using up any of their own.

Less Steel Than Needed

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — The shortsightedness of steel, our basic industry, in providing for expansion of capacity on a scale to meet our rapidly increasing demand, and future demand, is a matter that bobs up regularly in consideration of government planning to meet the needs of our domestic economy, our defense program and our Marshall Plan commitments abroad.

A suggestion that the government build steel plants as it did in the war, if the industry doesn't do something, comes from one government official, Assistant Secretary of Interior C. Girard Davidson, who said in a recent speech before the Northwest Mining Association's annual convention at Spokane:

"Steel is so vital to our full employment and our growing economy, as well as to our preparedness program, that the country cannot stand idly by while we suffer from a lack of steel. Public interest requires that we take every possible step to get the expanded steel capacity we need.

"If the steel men feel that they can't raise the capital to build new steel plants, then we should help them out by authorizing RFC to loan them the money. If the steel men then should reject these loans because of their basic opposition to expansion, then the government itself must build the steel plants as it did during the war."

The answer of the steel industry is that building of additional facilities would, itself, require steel and thus add another complication in the existing shortage.

Mr. Davidson insists that this is a long-range as well as current problem and it must be met, as steel "is at the very core of our industrial structure" and, as our population grows, we must have more steel to maintain full employment.

He has taken an interest in the steel shortage since he publicly criticized the current voluntary allocation plan as inadequate after an appearance here some weeks ago, in the absence of Secretary of Interior Julius A. Krug, before the steel products advisory committee, which represents the industry, in a session with the office of industry co-operation, representing various government agencies, that was set up by Congress to deal with allocations as part of the anti-inflation program.

It was explained by Carlton Skinner, press relations officer of the interior department, that the assistant secretary was speaking for himself in his Spokane speech, but that what he said did not run counter to interior department policy, which is for expansion of steel facilities.

Fear An Oversupply.

IN THE meeting at which he appeared in early October, Mr. Davidson, who urged additional steel for mining machinery, got what he called in his speech "the brush-off" from steel industry representatives but subsequently, after the November election, the allocation of 38,000 tons was approved by them, he said.

The attitude of the steel men was found to be more co-operative after the election when Secretary Krug appeared before them, it was learned.

Mr. Davidson's diagnosis of the voluntary allocation plan as inadequate is shared generally in the government. It is expected that President Truman will ask the new Congress for a compulsory plan, either as such or for stand-by. Congress turned down a similar request in the last session.

In his Spokane speech the assistant interior secretary emphasized allocations will neither meet requirements now nor end the steel shortage.

"Steel production this year," he said, "is about ten million tons short of actual demand and there is little reason to hope that the situation will be any better next year or the year after. Today the eastern steel barons are opposed, as they have always been, to any substantial enlargement of our capacity to make steel. These men of little faith are in constant dread of another depression which might leave them with 'too much' steel.

That Queer Spy Case

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The Washington spy case is a very strange story in more ways than one.

This will try to show why:

For more than a year a special New York federal grand jury investigated an alleged pre-war communist spy ring in this country.

In this investigation it was aided by the department of justice which is supposed to protect this country against spies.

But the grand jury put up the shutters last summer without nailing anyone as a spy or proving there was a spy ring.

Meanwhile the House un-American activities committee began holding hearings on an alleged pre-war communist spy ring here. In this it was helped by its own staff of investigators who have had a lot of experience in trying to ferret out communists.

The committee called in a batch of the same witnesses the New York grand jury had looked over.

The committee hearings started last summer and lasted for weeks. In walked Whittaker Chambers, 47 years old.

Chambers said he had been a member of the Communist party from 1924 until he quit in 1937.

More, he said part of that time he had been a messenger for a communist underground here in Washington.

And he said Alger Hiss, former state department official, had been a member of it.

Hiss denied this over and over. And that's just about all that happened so far as results go.

Starting All Over.

NOTHING was proved, nobody was jailed, and Chambers didn't produce, beyond his own words, any evidence to back up his story.

In the fall Hiss filed a $75,000 libel suit against Chambers.

Then—but not until then—Chambers suddenly did produce what may prove to be evidence of a real spy ring that operated here.

He dug out copies of state department papers, highly secret, that he said had been given him in the pre-war days by men he said were members of the spy ring he had talked about.

Suddenly, the department of justice, the New York federal grand jury and the un-American activities committee came to life again and began investigating all over. That's where it stands now.

But nobody pried those papers out of Chambers, neither the un-American activities committee, with its staff of trained investigators, nor the department of justice, with is huge staff of trained investigators.

Chambers, all by himself and without prodding from them, came up with the first batch of papers. A committee order produced the rest.

It seems fair to ask: What kind of police work is that? Why didn't the committee and the department of justice dig harder into Chambers for some evidence to support his charges?

The committee now is blaming the justice department for not having done a more thorough job. That seems justified. But the same charge can be made against the committee.

In view of what's happened in this case so far—I think anyone with police experience would call it pretty sloppy work—it seems fair to ask these questions:

What kind of anti-spy protection do we have in this country anyway? Just how good is it?

Is it likely that the Soviets, who had a big spy ring in Canada, didn't, or don't, have even a bigger ring in this country? The United States is, after all, far more powerful and potentially dangerous rival.

Just what has the justice department done about finding the answer to that one?

Dave Boone Says:

IT SEEMS to me there are so many scattered investigations under so many auspices into the pumpkin microfilm case that a requirement may be help from the Travelers' Aid-Bureau. There should be only one sponsor of a program of such importance and he should be a fellow named Uncle Sam.

If spies have been able to traffic in top information from government departments, it's a matter so vital to the safety of America and to the future of every American that there should be an all-out, top-level, 100 per cent probe with no second features on the program.

I see where the country has just picked the horse of the year and the golfer of the year. It seems to me it should be able to pick the spy of the decade, if any.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Headline Race Staged By Spy Probers

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Beneath the tragic seriousness of the Chambers-Hiss dispute over stolen state department documents there is the humorous spectacle of a news-headline race between the un-American activities committee and the justice department.

The justice department, believing in the old axiom that justice moves slow but sure, at first serenely took its time and let one high official recover from an acute case of weekenditis before working up fever heat over the Chambers-Hiss case.

Meanwhile, the un-American activities committee, knowing it faced a hostile 81st Congress, saw this as the last chance to win back its huge appropriations and get a new lease on life.

The result was a headline race which certainly bore out all the American principles of free competition. Here is the backstage story of what happened.

When ex-communist agent Whittaker Chambers first testified in a secret deposition in Baltimore that he had received confidential documents from state department official Alger Hiss, attorney Richard Cleveland, youngest son of the late President Grover Cleveland, acting for Chambers, immediately notified the justice department. So also did Hiss's attorney, William Marbury.

The justice department then proceeded with the case as if it did not live in a goldfish bowl, and as if there was no un-American activities committee to stir up the animals. It began a careful, painstaking investigation.

Midnight Ride to Maryland.

MEANWHILE, counsel Robert Stripling, real brains of the un-American activities committee, heard about the Baltimore deposition and, never one to let grass grow under his feet, scurried up to the Chambers farm at Westminster, Md.

He and Chambers were old friends, and the ex-communist agent was not averse to giving Stripling some additional microfilm documents which he had not given to the Baltimore lawyers, except that the lawyers had told him to say nothing and to cooperate with the justice department, which had already started to probe the case.

So Stripling returned to Washington, got a subpoena, and sped back to Westminster, arriving there at 1 a. m. Friday. It was then that Chambers led him to the now famous pumpkin.

Incidentally, between Stripling's two trips, Chambers had transferred the microfilm from a squash to a pumpkin. Apparent reason for the switch was his own love of mystery, plus the fact that Stripling on his first trip had remarked on the big pile of squashes in Chambers' barnyard.

So Chambers switched the microfilm from a squash to a pumpkin, putting a row of squashes in the shape of an arrow pointing to the special pumpkin.

Treasury vs. Justice Dept.

MEANWHILE, the justice department, still thinking that justice should move slow and sure, had scheduled new grand jury hearings in New York for the coming Wednesday.

It is barely possible that the justice department also had in mind the fact that California's Representative Dick Nixon, Republican chairman of the un-American subcommittee probing the Chambers-Hiss row, was en route to Panama and could not get back to Washington before Wednesday. If so, the justice department reckoned without its sister department, the treasury.

The treasury department, apparently not wanting to belie the critics who claim that Truman cabinet members never let one man know what the other is doing, promptly took Congressman Nixon off his boat en route to Panama and flew him back to Washington by special Coast Guard plane.

Immediately, GOP Congressman Nixon scheduled hearings of his un-American subcommittee for Tuesday—one day ahead of the justice department's grand jury meeting in New York.

By this time, however, the justice department was shaking off weekenditis and really hitting the ball. Overnight, it stepped up its grand jury session from Wednesday to Monday. This would put it in the headlines one day ahead of the un-American committee hearing.

Nixon Steals Headlines.

CONGRESSMAN NIXON, however, is a resourceful gentleman. With the justice department holding its grand jury investigation on Monday, he proceeded to call a press conference and issue a statement which completely stole the headlines.

He read part of Chambers' hitherto secret testimony, given in his Baltimore deposition, in which Chambers accused Hiss of giving him state department documents for the Russians.

This was considered so secret that both the justice department and the Baltimore attorneys had refused to admit such testimony existed.

After holding this sensational press conference, Nixon and his fellow Republican, Congressman John McDowell of Pennsylvania, climbed on a train and went to New York.

Assignment: America

Explain This, Will You

By KENNETH L. DIXON

CHI CHEEN ITSA, Yucatan, Mexico — Standing here amidst the ruins of a 2,000-year-old civilization, you begin to wonder whether we're really such hotshots of progress after all.

Take the old Mayan ball court for example.

It stands here—a mighty stone stadium, built before the pulley was exploited in these parts and long before the sounding board was a part of recorded history—and its acoustics and construction still defy the most clever explanations of the experts.

Literally, it is that—a stone stadium. It is nearly five hundred feet in length, and approximately one hundred feet in width. Its general appearance is that of a modern football stadium. Obviously, it was used for sports competition, although the exact nature of the ball game played on its grounds has not yet been made clear.

(However, there is some indication that when the game was finished, the losing captain or coach was beheaded. Economically speaking that might well be considered the logical forerunner of certain current customs . . .)

But it is the acoustical qualities of this open-air stone stadium which remain an inexplicable mystery to the sound engineers today. To appreciate them, it must be remembered that the length of the Mayan stone stadium is more than one and one-half times the length of the modern football field.

In other words, the seats at each end are farther apart than those in opposite end zones of the average stadium. And you know how far apart that is . . .

Nevertheless, you can sit at one end of this ancient Mayan stadium and carry on a conversation with someone sitting at the other end—without raising your voice any more than would be required to talk to someone across the table from you in a quiet restaurant.

Certainly it sounds unbelievable. But it is true, several newspapermen, including this correspondent, doubted it enough to put it to a test. We split into two skeptical parties lowered our voices almost to whispers (legend has it that even a whisper can be heard) and proceeded to make personal remarks about one another in the hushed tones of plotters.

Each time, quite clearly, the sharp replies to our low-voiced insults were fired back at us from five hundred feet away—and they, too, were talking in far below normal tones.

Try that sometime in a modern football stadium, or, for that matter, see if your friend out in left field bleachers can hear your conversational comments from behind home plate—and that distance is much shorter.

How Was It Done?

FROM a point of view of construction miracles, there are so many that it is difficult to know where to begin. For example, high up on top of one stadium wall, some 50 feet or so above the ground, are two stone serpent carvings, invaluable objects of art in themselves.

The construction point involving them is that each stone serpent weighs more than six tons—not to mention the massive stone bases on which they have been placed.

How the Mayan Indians, centuries ago, without benefit of pulley or any type of engine, managed to hoist those mammoth pieces of stone to that height is something which modern graduate engineers still would prefer not to discuss.

Probably, if they put their minds to it, the construction engineers could figure out an explanation. But the acoustical experts might have a tougher time of it.

Apparently, by designing acoustics whereby they could hear the faintest whisper from any corner of the stadium, the leaders of America's earliest known civilization didn't have to bother developing dictaphones or wire-tapping devices!

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

WE CAN all profit from Errol Flynn's arrest for kicking a policeman in the shins. If we want to avoid brushes with the law let us stick to something safe like spying.

Although there is some indication that if spying continues to get undesirable publicity someone will have to be fined $5 and costs as an example to others.

It was particularly indelicate of this spy situation to reopen just as we were trying to concentrate on remembering Pearl Harbor. . . . We can handle only one infamy at a time.

* * *

Mr. Flynn's mistake was that he had no pumpkins on him when arrested . . . not even a couple of feet of microfilm.

Under the circumstances he would find it impossible to get a committee organized to march on Washington screaming "Down with red herring investigations."

Timely Editorial

Accentuate the Positive.

The lessons taught by disappointment may be as important as they are bitter. And it may be that Earl Bunting, managing director of the much maligned National Association of Manufacturers, is an apt pupil. He has concluded that the Truman victory may be a pretty good thing for the NAM. And he adds:

"We are going to revise our stand from being against things to being for them. Our phrase, 'We are unalterably opposed to,' is out. Who cares what we oppose? They want to know what we propose."

If the NAM has learned from the election that the American people want to know how to make progress and not how to stop it, then those November voters have another score to their credit.—Milwaukee Journal.

Deck Halls With Holly

By CALVIN A. BYERS

FEW HOLLY bushes grow in Ohio, and most Ohioans have never seen the tall evergreens that furnish holly lumber. But American holly grows wild from Massachusetts, where it is a shrub, to Florida along the Atlantic coastal plain, and in the Mississippi valley as far north as Indiana and West Virginia.

Its classic name, Ilex Opaca, means "trees with needles on their leaves." The biggest holly trees grow in the rich bottoms of eastern Texas, where specimens four feet through have been reported. Southern Arkansas has wild holly, too, growing among the hardwoods. On the flat sandy coastlines of the east, holly grows among the pines.

The leaves are evergreen, glossy, opaque. They stay on for three years. They are shed in the spring. The flowers are white, inconspicuous little four-petaled clusters of bloom, in the axils of young leaves, during April to June.

Birds eat the red berries with relish, but do not digest the four hard nutlets within the berry. New seedlings are thus frequently started by birds.

Humans should not eat the berries. The leaves and bark of holly contain a bitter drug used as a tonic for fevers and rheumatism.

The bark of a holly tree looks like beech—smooth light gray, slightly warty. Trees sometimes grow eighty feet high and become a century old. A deep tap root has spreading laterals, and young trees may be transplanted in late fall or early spring before new growth starts. They make nice shade trees, when acclimated.

Freshly-cut holly wood is creamy white—a hard, firm-grained, heavy wood, suitable for carving or engraving. Cabinet makers use the limited supply for small musical instruments, tools, piano or organ keys.

Down in West Virginia, one year, I watched men cut wild holly and load it onto trucks for the Christmas market. The spiny leaves and clusters of gay red berries have a sprightly charm as distinctive as palms or laurels. The holly wreath upon the door means hospitality at Christmas time. All over America, it vies with "the candle-lit window," the jingling bells, the chimes and the Christmas tree in expressing the spirit of peace and good will.

Continue Probe on Boy's Death

Parents Quizzed In Strangling

SPRINGFIELD — (INS) — The date for an inquest in the case of seven-year-old John A. Smith still was an open question today as Springfield police continued questioning the mother and stepfather of the boy found hanged in a clothes closet.

Coroner Austin Richards ruled last night that the boy died of strangulation, but set no date for an inquest. He refused to say how the strangulation came about.

The boy was found hanging from a leather belt with his hands tied so tightly behind his back that the bonds cut into the flesh.

Police Inspector Lawrence Abbott denied the statements of the boy's mother, Mrs. Lunnie Flix, 32, and his stepfather, Roger Flix, 22, that the boy committed suicide.

Abbott quoted the mother as saying the boy "was always tying himself up around the house," but the inspector said such a suicide was "practically impossible."

Probate court records showed that Dr. Richard A. Kent recommended at a lunacy proceeding 10 days ago that Mrs. Flix be committed immediately to the Dayton state hospital.

Probate Court Judge Harry G. Gram recommended that she be placed in the care of a friend in Urbana, but police said there had been no action taken.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, December 11

A rather dangerous and tricky state of affairs is destined to come to a happy ending by the friendly intervention of those in influential positions, who may be graciously impressed by a brilliant idea, a clever proposition or even a flash of genius, clearing the way for conspicuous progress or surprising goals. It is a most propitious time for a decisive about-face, renewal of plans and programs, in which higher-ups may be disposed to be tolerant, understanding and generous. Make changes quickly.

Those whose birthday it is have the assurance of the pleasant and welcome breaking up of a difficult and distressing situation in which much sorrow and loss may be averted. This possibly by a bright plan or proposition of more than customary cleverness, which is destined to impress those in influential places. These may be readily influenced to supply the vital ways and means, financial and otherwise, for promoting a fresh or novel venture. Act quickly and dextrously for constructive results and new friendships.

A child born on this day is splendidly equipped for a progressive and impressive career, with much versatility, and also adaptability to secure friends and cooperation from high places.

DONATIONS MADE

The Galilean Bible club met recently with Mrs Bart Rinehart as hostess. Mrs Eli Teeter conducted the business session. It was voted to give a Christmas gift to the Volunteers of America and to the Richland county home for the aged. Devotions were led by Mrs Rinehart and Miss Rose Cherry gave the lesson study. The next meeting will be a Christmas tea at the home of Mrs A C Warner, 217 S. Franklin street, Friday, December 17.

Schedule of Coming Events

Eleven Members Study Science

Mrs Roger Bolin, Manchester road, was hostess to eleven members of the Little Flower Study club recently.

Mrs John Daley gave a paper entitled "What's New In Science." She told how science is now turning to helping mankind instead of destroying it. Mrs Daley spoke to the members on how science is making rutin from inferior tobacco and putting it into medicine.

Plans were made for the Christmas dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. James Ehalt, West Third street, December 20. There will be a gift exchange.

Mrs. Bolin served buffet style refreshments from a table centered with rust and white mums. Rust and white mums were placed through out the home.

Have You Planned For The Holidays?

By ALICE DENHOFF

THE best way we know to start preparations for the holiday season is to make a list of all the foods you think you will need and lay in staples as far ahead of time as possible. Such items as spices, stuffed, ripe and green olives, pimentos, tiny onions, catsup, cranberry sauce and jelly, fruit cake, cookies, jars of spreads and pastes, nuts, canned goods of various kinds, preserved ginger and such, can all be garnered ahead of time. This will leave ample time to concentrate on the perishables when actual shopping for the big days ahead gets under way.

Concentrate on casual entertaining as much as possible. If you have sandwich grills, get them ready. Make or buy plenty of delicious cakes and cookies for there is always occasion for a beverage and a bite of holiday cake or cookies. If you plan to do some baking see to it that you have plenty of fancy cookie cutters. Have at hand, too, such items as angelica and tiny red candies.

TWELVE HOLIDAY CAKES

Here is one of our favorite holiday cake recipes. Twelve attractive holiday cakes will be yours if you get things ready. Line up 3 eggs and give the egg whites a good beating. Add one c sifted sugar, a little at a time. Add the beaten yolks. Beat. Add tsp baking powder and one c flour sifted together, alternately with 2 tbsp. water. Beat between each addition. Flavor with a few drops of lemon and vanilla extracts. Bake in gem pans in 350 F. oven for 15 min. Frost. Decorate before the icing has hardened, with tiny red candies and angelica or citron cut thin with the scissors to simulate leaves.

To prepare the icing beat an egg white stiff. Add one c. sifted confectioners' sugar alternately with tbsp. water, a little at a time. Flavor with a few drops of vanilla and lemon extracts.

When holiday guests drop in, serve something different in the way of a beverage. Mulled Loganberry Juice is delightful. To serve 8 combine 4 c loganberry juice, 2 c grapefruit juice, 2 c. water, 6 whole cloves, small piece each of stick cinnamon and whole mace. Simmer for 5 min. Strain. Serve in tall glasses with a cherry and a quarter slice of orange. Makes a nice stirrup cup.

Stories In Jewelry New Style Note

Precious palladium jewelry pins, each with an individual story to tell, are the latest style note to capture the fancy of fashion circles here.

As created by Marc Koven, the "story" pins are accompanied by smaller "satellite" pins, worn a few inches higher on the dress, to provide atmosphere. The figure or scene of the "story" is fashioned of precious white palladium or gold, and is usually superimposed on a bank of cultured pearls. Two or three small diamonds or rubies nestle among the pearls.

No larger than fraternal emblems, the "satellites" are also studded with diamonds or rubies that radiate winking gleams of light similar to their heavenly counterparts. A novel screw arrangement enables them to be attached to the dress fabric without damaging the material. Designed in both star and floral motifs, the "satellites" may be interchanged with the "story" pins, the creator explains.

In making custard pie the crust may be baked on the bottom side of a pie pan; the custard may be baked separately in a pan of the same size set and at a low temperature. After the custard is baked and has cooled so that the pan feels warm it can be transfered into the crust. To do this, run a spatula around the edge of the custard, tilt it somewhat and shake and slide it into the crust.

Convict Gets Last Wish--Death

CHICAGO— (U.P.) —A convict's letters disclosed today that he led a jailbreak in the hope of being slain. He got his wish.

The letters, read at a coroner's inquest, revealed the tragic story of Andrew E. Evans, 29, who found too late that "crime doesn't pay."

Evans, in an attempted break, made a suicidal lunge and was shot to death by William Riley, a guard. At the inquest, Warden Frank Sain submitted as evidence two letters Evans wrote before the jailbreak. One was dated Oct. 25, addressed to: "Who it may concern."

"I have thrown my best years away by playing around with crime," it said. "I am really starting off on the wrong foot now and know I can't win. I hope and pray I get killed because I don't want to ever go to a penitentiary or any place again."

Stories In Jewelry New Style Note

Precious palladium jewelry pins, each with an individual story to tell, are the latest style note to capture the fancy of fashion circles here.

As created by Marc Koven, the "story" pins are accompanied by smaller "satellite" pins, worn a few inches higher on the dress, to provide atmosphere. The figure or scene of the "story" is fashioned of precious white palladium or gold, and is usually superimposed on a bank of cultured pearls. Two or three small diamonds or rubies nestle among the pearls.

No larger than fraternal emblems, the "satellites" are also studded with diamonds or rubies that radiate winking gleams of light similar to their heavenly counterparts. A novel screw arrangement enables them to be attached to the dress fabric without damaging the material. Designed in both star and floral motifs, the "satellites" may be interchanged with the "story" pins, the creator explains.

In making custard pie the crust may be baked on the bottom side of a pie pan; the custard may be baked separately in a pan of the same size set and at a low temperature. After the custard is baked and has cooled so that the pan feels warm it can be transfered into the crust. To do this, run a spatula around the edge of the custard, tilt it somewhat and shake and slide it into the crust.

POSTAL HEADACHE — It is estimated that 1,500,000,000 Christmas cards will be exchanged in United States this year. There is a pageant-like, theatrical air to the 1948 Christmas cards as they recreate the magnificent scenes of our centuries-old Yuletide traditions. Emphasis in this season's cards is on story-telling designs costumed in bold and vivid colors, their drama enhanced by impressionistic lighting effects. Even modern scenes bring to life Yuletide drama. But while 1948 cards gain a delightful freshness from the new art style, their themes remain staunchly traditional: candles, holly and mistletoe, Christmas trees and lots of snow.—(International).

School Head Faces Charge

TWINSBURG —(AP)— Principal Glen L. Powell of Twinsburg high school was summoned before a justice of the peace today to answer charges that he "slammed" a pupil against the wall.

Character and Honor Flourish Where Background Is Conducive

IN NEW YORK press and clergy have celebrated the escapade of a headstrong little hoyden who absorbed a charge of democracy and corn-spirits and went chatting around town with two chums until 3 a. m. Policeman James Conway, with perhaps a twinge of ancient bigotry, thought this combination unusual at that hour and made them all lie flat on Park avenue. The frisk yielded two loaded pistols and a quantity of jewelry swiped from her foster-mother and all this caused publicity and comment in the whither-are-we-drifting mood.

This Junior Miss, an adoptee, as a jargonist would call her, refuted the sordid platitudes about poverty which have encouraged boys and girls of the dirty neighborhoods to take up crime.

The foster-mother, a lady who knows where her next minks are coming from, couldn't understand her whimsey because, as she told the cops, "We gave her everything."

"Everything," the parson said with Corkonian scorn at St. Patrick's, meant social access to the genteel friends of these chemically nice people, and plenty of money to spend. But he thought "everything" didn't include that sweet severity which disciplines the character with the right abhorrences.

The cleric who took this occasion to put in a plug for daily prayers, the sacraments and the formulated inhibitions of decency, assumed more than he could prove. These means have had their failures. On the other hand, character and honor do flourish where the conventional incitations to goodness were invisible.

I HAVE in mind a friend whose mother died in Alaska 55 years ago where his father had gone in the gold rush, bringing a little boy of three and another about 16. Father and sons returned to the states. Three years later the father died, leaving the little boy alone with his older brother.

This young man, now nearing 20, found himself in Teluride, Colo., a gold camp in the stage tradition. He had innate quality and a knack for opportunity. He got two rooms above the new Sheridan, saloon, restaurant and palace of chance, at a glance, inappropriate environment for an orphan child of six.

The kid's best friends were a faro-dealer, who gave him a pearl derby hat, and a waitress named Fanny Dempsey, who cajoled him to eat oatmeal for breakfast instead of steak and fried potatoes.

At ten he bought from another free enterpriser a popcorn route among the brothels of Teluride and by all the laws of social science he should have hanged at Canyon City about 1910.

Miss Fanny Dempsey and the older brother, of course, gave him the outlines of the spiritual traditions of the United States and evidence shows that a little boy without a mother or father, from a standing start in a saloon and gambling hall in a frontier gold camp, can become a fine citizen.

He hoboed a year across the northwest, including the harvest season which in those days was the western boy's equivalent of the modern summer camp, played football for Colorado School of Mines, soldiered in France in the first war and in the years since has become one of the great miners of the United States—a man of morals, abstemious, modest and, in a word, good.

Squalor is not necessarily confined to slums. It was a rich man's son with every "advantage" save moral training and hereditary honor whose career at trimming wealthy suckers disgraced the presidency and shook the honor of millions.

Chambers Not the Only Communist Working For Luce, Columnist Says

BIG TOWN SMALL-TIMER: That hick pic of Time ed Chambers (with his pants too high over his shoes) is the worst ad in years for newsmag staffers. . . . Can't you just hear people shrieking: "Do you mean this is the type of bird who molds public opinion?"

. . . Chambers isn't the only "former" communist working for Henry Luce.

Manhattan Murals: Bob Cicero, the 50th Street and B'way news vendor. He has a bigger Durante than Jimmy but refuses to go on television "because Durante's a pal of mine"...The dentist on W. 40th named Chas. Gargle and the tooth-jerker on W. 82d named A. J. Hertz... "Fishcakes," the 400 lb. newsdealer (at 43rd and B'way) who peddles his papyrus from outside the stand. He can't fit in it.

The candy-maker in the penny arcade at 52nd and B'way whose last name is Million...The men's shoppe on E. 53rd which offers suspenders at only $245. (They really hold you up.)

Sounds in the Night: At Freeman Chum's: "What's Ilse Koch giving this Christmas—lamp shades" In the Club Samoa: "She's the craveman type" At the Edison Green Room: "I want you to meet my swishter" At Tavern-on-the-Green: "Who's she? The Drabutante of the Year?"

In the Stork: "My idea of a last laugh would be for 'Stop the Music!' to call up Fred Allen!".....At Gilmore's: "Here they come. Adam and Naive!" ....At Monte's - on - the - Park: "There, there, darling. Try to keep a stiff upper-plate."

The Late Watch: The Phillip Truexes (Yolanda Dolan, a click in London's "Born Yesterday") are getting Renosey.....Leon Belasco and Laureine Bac may be an elopemental case....Producer J. Wildberg ("Anna Lucasta") may wed in New Orleans (New Year's Day) for the 5th time....

When "Streets of Paris" was in rehearsal ten years ago the Shuberts fired a youth, claiming he couldn't sing, His name is Ramon Vinay. Last week he sang the tile role in "Otello," the Met's opener.

Nancy Kelly is due in town any plane because Wm. Eythe is in the East with his Coast click, "Lend an Ear." We hear she's the apple of his eyeth. (Nuts to you, too).

They made a Federal case (on the front pages) outta the fact that the Ike Eisenhowers made the N. Y. Social Register. All that happened was that they were moved from the Washington So-What Register into New York's.

They won't have to hang Tojo. He'll die laughing.

Economist Speaks at Confab

World Tension Called Factor

Eighty representatives of farm organizations in six northcentral Ohio counties were told in Mansfield yesterday to expect little change in farm conditions in 1949.

The optimistic forecast was made by Mervin G. Smith, rural economist from Ohio State university, one of the speakers at an all-day conference at the Central Methodist church. Farm spokesmen from Richland, Ashland, Morrow, Knox, Delaware and Holmes counties.

"Business is expected to continue at a high level during 1949," he said. "The general price level will remain nearly as high as in 1948."

He said that because of the tense nature of international relations, government expenditures for defense and foreign aid are likely to continue to increase, many materials will continue to be scarce, and the "upward pressure on the price level will continue."

Smith said the general condition of agriculture was closely tied to the nation's business outlook, and pointed out that continued high farm prices hinged on the international situation.

2 OTHERS SPEAK

In addition to Smith, two others from Ohio State, Guy Miller, a rural economist, and Miss Thelma Beall, a home management specialist, led discussions on topics of interest to farmers.

Miss Beall discussed the family living income, touching upon the price outlook for household goods and farm supplies.

Miller and Smith led discussions on poultry, beef cattle, hogs, sheep, dairy products, fruits, vegetables, wheat, soy beans, and field seeds.

Representatives at the conference were farm leaders from surrounding counties. They will return to their groups and pass on the results of a study of economic conditions made by the state extension service.

Capt. Flynn Cites Advantages Of Reserve Units In City

Capt. R. M. Flynn, unit instructor of the Organized Reserve corps, today urged young men who are interested in improving their military backgrounds to take advantage of the programs offered by Mansfield's reserve units.

Flynn emphasized that the demand for leaders in the army was never so great in time of peace. He pointed out that Mansfield has an untapped pool of potential army leadership.

To assist the expansion of the army and strengthen the reserve component structure, the way has been simplified to expedite the commissioning of citizens and soldiers who come within the five different categories covered in as many departments of the Army circulars published during the current year, Flynn said.

Young officers of World War II can re-enter a military career on extended active duty. In addition, they may apply for a regular army commission on a competitive tour basis.

The program to satisfy the long range mobilization needs of the army, aimed at obtaining specialists not normally available through other sources, is particularly adapted to college graduates, he continued.

Persons who did not win commissions during World War II now have the chance to get a reserve commission, he announced. This plan also provides, for those who had no service during the war, the means to be commissioned now.

For further information, young men who feel they are qualified and interested in obtaining reserve commissions may contact Flynn at Hangar 7, Municipal airport. Phone 2113-9.

Payment Starts During Month

GALION—A $200 cost-of-living salary allowance bonus was voted last night for all teaching staff members of the public school system here by the Galion Board of Education. Those affected include the superintendent, 62 teachers and two full-time principals.

The first $80 of the allowance will go out with the December checks with the remainder to be paid at the rate of $20 a month for the first six months in 1949.

In this action, the board also provided raises for janitors and other employes, the amount varying from $100 to $200, depending upon service. Money for this purpose was accrued from the one and one-half mill levy passed by voters here in November of 1947.

The board also approved the purchase of a tract of land from John Vossers at a cost of $3,000, for the purpose of expanding playground facilities at Heise park. The land lies west of the football bleachers, and north of the picnic grounds of the city's section of the park near the Unckrich property.

A tuberculosis patch testing program for all children of the school system, under the direction of Miss Lucy Aller, school health nurse, and local health board, which was approved by the board will be launched in the near future, Supt. M. E. Shank said today.

Tree surgery by Charles Prim, was arranged by the board.

Members of the board also discussed the fire insurance program for the schools, met with representatives of a Columbus firm, regarding new football bleachers, and discussed building plans with Harry Brumenshenkel, Mansfield architect.

YWCA to Observe 'Hanging of Greens' In Sunday Ceremonies

A traditional Christmas service, "the hanging of the greens," will be held at the YWCA at 3 p. m. Sunday.

The service is held each December after the building has been decorated for the Christmas season. The Christmas tree is lighted for the first time at the service.

Invitations have been sent to all members inviting them to bring their families.

The Mansfield Treble Choir, under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Hazeltine, will present a program of Christmas carols. Carols also will be sung by the entire group.

There will be a tea following the program.

The building on South Mulberry street is being decorated by various groups of the YWCA. The Employed Girls club is doing the mantel decorations, the Blue Tri clubs are decorating the Christmas tree, and the Vesper club is making favors for the Sunday program.

Mrs. F. R. Campbell is chairman of the committee in charge of Sunday's program. Her committee includes Mrs. Lillian Parker, Miss Louise Krause, and Mrs. Lionel Smaltz. Miss Betty Blackstone, president of the YWCA, and Miss Ann Knapp, Y-teen director, are working with the committee.

Fire Sweeps Large Hotel

CHICAGO —(AP)— Fire swept through the five-story, 208-room Hubbard hotel in North Clark street early today, driving dozens of residents into the street.

Early, fire officials said there were no fatalities. One man was hospitalized after being overcome by smoke.

Flames shot more than 50 feet into the air as the fire spread rapidly through the brick hotel building. An extra-alarm was sounded and 42 pieces of fire equipment rushed to the scene. Deputy Chief Fire Marshal Otto Dahl said the fire was believed to have started on the second floor and spread through the walls to the top floor.

Most of the guests fled when the flames were discovered but firemen helped carry some into the street.

Use of Path At Buildings Up to Court

Passageway Bars Prompt Petition

BUCYRUS—A controversy over a passageway between two downtown buildings here reached Crawford county common pleas court here today.

Orville Landes, Bucyrus jeweler, and his wife, Alice, have filed a petition asking the court to order Dorsey M. Wirth, Bucyrus merchant and owner of a building adjoining their property, to remove barriers, which have been placed on the three-foot passageway between the two buildings.

The plaintiffs allege concrete barricades were placed there by Wirth and they have the right to use the passageway because it has been used as such for more than 25 years.

The petition asks the court also enjoin the defendant from interfering with the use of the passageway by the plaintiffs and the general public.

The dairymen pointed out they are not opposed to the sale of tax-free margarine but they consider yellow coloring a violation of fair trade practices. In the dairymen's opinion, yellow is a trademark of butter, Miller said.

The dairy unit also re-elected six directors and named two additional directors to the board. Comprising the new board are Lester T. Ross, Polk township; Willard Eppley, Chatfield, William L. Guthrie, Jefferson township, Homer Hedges, Lykens township; Warren Cooper, Dallas township; Marvin Cooper, Holmes township; John G. Yaussy, Liberty township, and Paul Cahill, Vernon township.

Soil Waste Rapped By Engineer

Terms Erosion 'Farmer's Plague'

CINCINNATI—(AP)— Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, Washington, chief or engineers of the U. S. army, said yesterday the soil of the nation "has been tragically impoverished."

He blamed "the encroachment of civilization and wasteful land management."

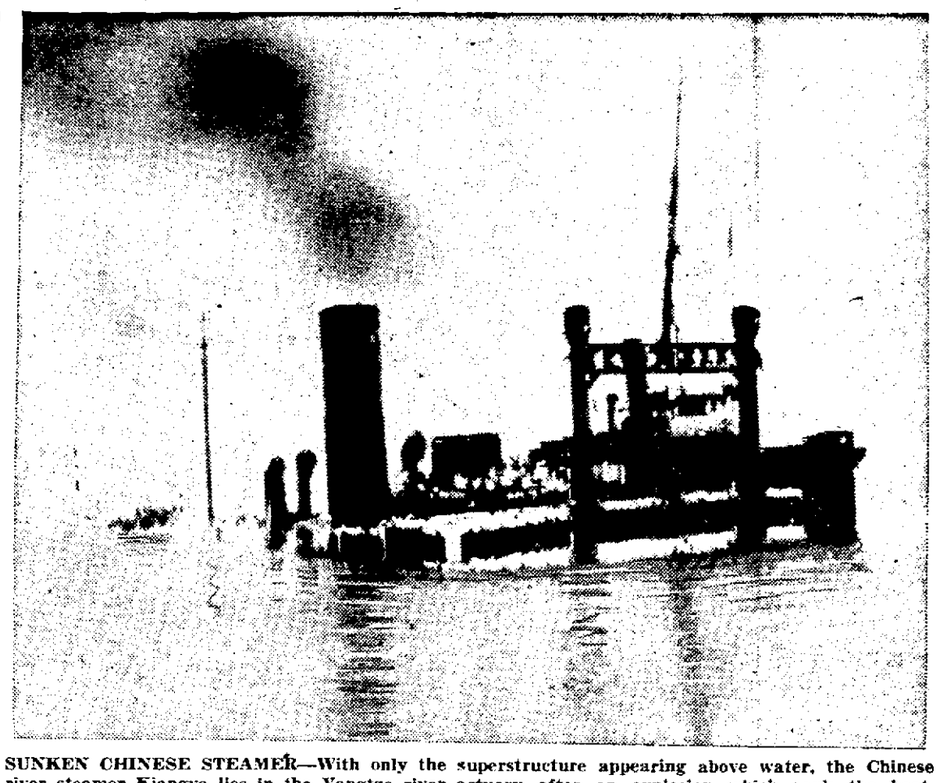
Gen. Wheeler made the statements at the opening meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

"Man has invaded the forests and the fields, and until comparatively recently, he has taken little account of his ruthless wastefulness," he said.

"Any program designed to develop our nation fully must recognize that the management, improvement and development of the natural, renewable resources of the country—soil and water—and the interests of industry commerce and agriculture, the social and economic welfare of the people, are inseparable, Gen. Wheeler declared.

The speaker called soild erosion "a plague to the farmers and to the engineers."

"Erosion control today is of primary importance and must be recognized as an integral part of comprehensive, nation-wide flood-control planning," Gen. Wheeler said.



SUNKEN CHINESE STEAMER—With only the superstructure appearing above water, the Chinese river steamer Kiangya lies in the Yangtze river estuary after an explosion which sank the boat, drowning some 3,000 of the 4,000 aboard. The vessel, overloaded with Chinese refugees fleeing the oncoming Chinese communist armies, was en route to Shanghai when the fatal blast occurred.

Hartz Brings Motor Safety Campaign to Mansfield

Harry Hartz, traffic safety specialist and former racing champion, drove through Mansfield in a new 1949 Studebaker half-ton pickup truck in which he is writing the name "Studebaker" over a 10,000-mile route extending up and down across the country.

Hartz is following a route over a combination of highways which spell "Studebaker" by their winding pattern.

When he reached Mansfield he had traveled 9,150 miles and had more than 1,100 miles ahead of him. Hartz began his trip in Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 27, and expects to complete it in Boston, Mass. this month.

Hartz describes his journey as a safety crusade.

On the sides of his truck are painted two maps showing his route, monthly slogans adopted by the National Safety council in its current "operation safety," and the council's Green Cross safety emblem.

He was welcomed to Mansfield by Gibson Motors, Mansfield Studebaker dealer.

Ohio Denied Extra Gas

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Federal Power commission yesterday authorized the Tennessee Gas Transmission company to expand its southern natural gas delivery system with about $50,000,000 of new facilities.

It temporarily denied the company authority to build a new pipeline from northeastern Kentucky to Columbiana county, Ohio.

The order authorized construction of 516.1 miles of main line loops to increase the existing pipeline system in Kentucky, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee and West Virginia. This will increase daily deliveries from 660,000,000 to 771,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The commission said separate hearings should be held on the proposed new 283.3 mile pipeline to Ohio which would deliver gas to the Manufacturers Gas company of Chicago.

B'nai Brith, other religious organizations, and individuals in Mansfield contribute to the hospital.

Among those who are expected to attend the ceremonies are Dr. Frank A. Calderone, director of American services of the United Nations World Health organization, who will be the principal speaker; and representatives from China, Korea and other countries who have been assigned by the United Nations to study methods of tuberculosis treatment and control at the hospital.

American medicine will be represented by Dr. Florence Sabin, 77-year-old research physician who was the first woman to serve on the staffs of Rockefeller Institute and Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.

Asphalt Road Repair To Close Down Friday

Most county forces have been working this week on asphalt patching of bituminous roads inasmuch as the Mansfield Asphalt Paving plant, which supplies the material, will close down for the winter on Friday.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk said that after asphalt is no longer available, tar and chips are used for that work.

Puritans Lived By Strict Code!

Christmas Observance Once Outlawed

By CLARK KINNAIRD

Once upon a time it was against the law to observe Christmas.

On May 11, 1659, the Puritans of Massachusetts Bay colony accepted with satisfaction the enactment of a statute "Whosoever shall be found observing any such day as Christmas or the like, either for bearing of labor, feasting or in any way, as a festival, shall be fined five shillings."

This law, which remained on the statute books for more than 20 years, reflected a feeling at that time among many peoples, including the English in the Mother country.

Observance of Christmas had been outlawed by Parliament in 1644 with the approval of both adherents of the Church of England and Non-conformists

Among the latter, the Calvanists particularly denounced observance of such days, except Sunday, as superstitious and unscriptural In England this feeling abated before long but the opposition to Christmas remained strong in Scotland till well into the 19th century, and there were recalcitrants still much later. This writer's Scotch grandfather never outgrew his belief that Christmas was pagan.

A COINCIDENCE

The persistent association of Christmas with paganism in minds of many devout persons down to the 20th century came from the coincidence of the observance of the Birth of Jesus with the time of the Saturnalia in the Roman calendar The Saturnalia, or festival of Saturn was an occasion for unbridled license and merry-making among the Romans Even slaves were premitted to enjoy freedom of speech and behavior, so work and business suspended Dwellings and public buildings were decked with laurels, "open house" was held, and the streets were carnivals.

Amid all pagan nations, there was a tendency to worship the sun as giver of like and light. So the winter solstice, when it is stopped getting longer and started becoming shorter, was a natural time for celebration. In more barbaric nations to the north and west of Rome, the same sort of celebration took place in a different form.

Special logs were burned, in a fiery tribute to Odin and Thor mistletoe, the alien plant which grew out of the trees and which therefore seemed miraculous and sacred, was gathered, the trees which provided light and heat in the long months the sun was gone and thus had a special significance, were decked gaily in tribute

As Christianity spread, its missionaries and ministers had difficulty in inducing the converts to refrain from these well-established customs and popular amusements indulged in by their still pagan countrymen Backsliders were most numerous at

"CHRISTMAS EVE," by the celebrated 19th century English satiric artist, George Cruikshank, illustrates the continuance of Saturnalian associations with the occasion, which made Calvinists opponents of the observance of Christmas.

Saturnalia time At last, partly because of the ineffectiveness of their arguments and denunciations, and partly due to the idea that the spread of Christianity might be aided, the church effected a compromise The effect of it was to amalgamate customs of the old pagan worship with tenets of the new religion Heathen ceremonies were transformed to solemnities of Christian festivals.

The time for the observance of the Nativity was arbitrarily fixed in the season of the Saturnalia by the Roman Catholic Church, in the 4th century, but it was centuries before there was unanimity in this observance.

At one time, April 1 denoted the beginning of the calendar year, and March 25 was Christmas After January 1st became New Year's Day, the Eastern church still held its Christmas on January 6 This was the case also in England and the American colonies until 1752, when Britian accepted the Gregorian calendar January 6 is still observed by some communicants, and the Armenian Church observes January 18. Altogether, Christmas has been celebrated on at least 100 different dates in various parts of the world.

PAGAN DERIVATIVES

Two synonyms for Christmas, Yule and Noel, apparently came to us from pagan times It is suggested that Yule is derived from the Anglo-Saxons having had a conception of the sun moving in a circular path during its annual journey around the earth. Noel, the French term for Christmas, is said by philologists to come from the Latin "natalis," referring to the new birth of the sun's powers after the Winter solstice.

Gradually the pagan associations of Christmas subsided under the influence of strict Christian disciplinarians, both Roman Catholic and Protestant. At the beginning of the 18th Century, an English writer commented:

."At present, Christmas-day, if somewhat shorn of its ancient glories and unmarked by that boisterous jollity and exuberance of animal spirits which distinguished it in the time of our ancestors, is, nevertheless, still the holiday among which of all others throughout the year all classes of English society must most generally participate.

Partaking of a religious character, the forenoon of the day is usually passed in church, and in the evening the re-united members of the family assemble round the joyous Christmas-board"

Mothers to Get Assist With Housework After Christmas

CHICAGO — (INS) — Santa Claus is going to bring a lot of hard work for the nation's small fry this year.

An International News Service survey of toy manufacturers indicates that there is a definite trend this year to toys that do actual work.

One manufacturer said it was a postwar development—a sort of turning away from toy "death-dealing" weapons. There still is some emphasis on atomic toys.

But the days of being mowed down by crossing the imaginary line of fire of warring cowboys and indians is diminishing, although it's still possible to be picked off by a die-hard old two-gun small fry.

The toy makers, with an assist from psychologists, said they have discovered that toys the kids like best are those that enable them to emulate mama and papa

One of the latest things for little girls, for instance, is an electric vacuum cleaner, complete with a real electric motor. The "toy" makes it possible for little girls to help mother give the rugs a once over—lightly

The boys haven't been forgotten either One thoughtful firm has rigged up an electric razor—just like the one Daddy has.

It is made of plastic, has a clock-spring motor and has harmless plastic blades which move back and forth over the face

Toy makers have thought up a great many other devices to keep Junior distracted and exhausted and give Pop plenty of time to fiddle with that electric train.

There is a toy steam shovel, complete with motor, that will pick up sand, dirt or valuable vases and dump them anywhere.

For the more ombitious and stronger boys, new scale model road graders—equipped with balloon tires, a steering wheel, and a bulldozer type scraper are available

This is just the thing for tired fathers who have ruts in the driveway of the old homestead. It is guaranteed to keep Junior away from the electric train for hours—if not weeks.

Of course, if the kid gets loose among the rose bushes with this contraption, that's another matter

For fathers who are kept on the jump by the eccentricities of the family bus, there are a whole variety of appropriate Christmas gifts for junior. These include toy gas stations complete with air hoses, grease racks, gas pumps and car washers.

Senior High Host to Collinwood Tonight

FAIR OR FOUL

by LAWTON CARVER

International News Service

NEW YORK—(INS)—James G. Conzelman, one of the nation's best known roughhouse piano-players, is likely to run into considerable difficulty in getting his Chicago Cardinals in tune for a victory march next Sunday.

They play the Chicago Bears, a name which is enough to make strong men quake and piano-players go into a dirge.

The winners of the game at Chicago will qualify the club to meet the Philadelphia Eagles for the National league championship. The Bears are favorites.

RECORDS IDENTICAL

The clubs have identical records of 10 victories and one defeat for the season.

The Cardinals as defending champions by virtue of their play-off win over the Eagles in 1947 should be given a slight edge in the season finale for both ball clubs, but the Bears have been established a mite stronger.

The Bears, in fact, already have been set up to take not only the Cardinals but to go right on to the championship a week later against the Eagles.

These are not the ferocious Bears we used to know but plainly they are tough enough to convince everybody that they are hard to take.

Malbe the old piano-thumper, Conzelman, will be able to do something about that, and in this connection one thing is certain—he will be giving it the old college try along the sidelines.

The Bears have the better balance when you consider offense and defense.

On the offense the Cardinals have been better to the extent of gaining 2,367 yards rushing to 2,300 for the Bears and they have passed for 2,017 yards against 1,584.

However, the Cardinals have allowed 1,364 yards rushing against 1,051 for the Bears and allowed 2,210 on passes against 1,527.

Figure all this out and you will find that the Bears have a distinct edge on the ground and on passing. In the latter respect the Bears have an edge of 57 yards plus against 193 yards minus.

Manager Signs

SPRINGFIELD —(AP)— Catcher Anthony Ravish signed last night as playing-manager of the Springfield Giants in the Class D Ohio-Indiana Baseball league.

Tall Quintet Will Invade Tyger Lair

Despite their erratic shooting exhibition against the Alumni Tuesday, Senior high school's basketball Tygers will be rated a favorite when they meet Cleveland Collinwood tonight in the local gym.

It will be the second outing against high school competition and the first at home. Sophomore squads of the two schools will get the program underway at 7 p. m.

TYGERS FAVORED

Chiefly on their showing in a 49-30 victory at Elyria last Friday must the Tygers be considered favorites. In that game they connected on 40 per cent of their shots while against the Alumni the figure was only a little better than 16 per cent as they lost 26-22.

In both contests, however, Coach Vern Hoffman's charges displayed a fine fast-breaking offense and a decided superiority over their opponents in speed. If the shooting tonight is anywhere near that of last Friday, the Bengals should have an easy time.

Hoffman said this morning that he had been stressing shot drills in practice, and that he would probably stick to the same starting lineup used in the first two games.

This means that Jimmy Anderson and Willie Fowler will start at forwards, Norb Shibinski at center and A. C. Jenkins and Paul "Pinky" Ferguson at guards.

FOWLER HURT

Fowler's service may be limited, however, as he came out of the Alumni game with a badly bruised ankle. He will be replaced by Ed Schmitt.

Collinwood will bring a team, which although having lost its only two starts, will present a problem in height. Sadlock, the Cleveland center, stands six-three while a forward, Dalthi, and a guard, Carlson, are both six-two. Sadlock, Carlson, and another guard, Pulumbo, are the only men with any first team experience from last year.

Barons Hit Basement

The Cleveland Barons slid back into last place today after being "snowed under" by an avalanche of Indianapolis goals last night at the Caps home ice

Conn to Square Off Against Confident Joe Louis Tonight

CHICAGO—(UP)—Billy Conn, the Pittsburgh kid, steps into the ring with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis for the third time tonight and this time he's hoping for another shot at the title, not the crown itself.

"If I knock him down," Conn said, "I'll demand another chance at the championship."

"If I can knock him out, I'm going to do so," he added.

Louis recognized that Conn was trying for another title bid, and he said he was ready to put on his best fight against the man whom he rates the toughest challenger he ever faced.

"Conn is not going to get me off guard," Louis said. "I know he's trained for the last two months for this match. He's the best boxer I've ever been up against.

"I hope he doesn't run as much as he did in the last fight and I don't think he will."

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—A field of 139 of the nation's best golfers went out today in an effort to overtake an unknown professional and a leading amateur in the $10,000 Miami Open tournament.

Stan Straszowski, Winsted, Conn., pro, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., amateur, carded four under par 66's yesterday to lead the way into the second round of the 72-hole event over the 6,735-yard Miami Springs course.

Straszowski, who never won a major tournament in 13 years as a professional, will be 30 years old Sunday and he'd like to wind up the tournament on his birthday with the $2,000 first prize money.

Appleseed Five Tripped, 40-29

MT. VERNON — Mansfield's Johnny Appleseed junior high school fell before the Mt. Vernon reserves, 40-29 here yesterday. It was the first defeat of the season for Appleseed.

The Appleseed team was completely "off" as the larger Yellowjackets scored with little difficulty. Fred Zahn and Joe Diemer were the best of the Mansfield combine.

The Pioneer eighth graders did manage to win, however, defeating the local second-stringers, 33-25. Bill Turner led Appleseed with 15 points.

Rifle League Opens Season

The four teams comprising the Mansfield City Rifle League fired their first matches of the season this week. Yesterday Team No. 1 beat No. 2 by a 1,403 to 1,245 total on the YMCA range while Wednesday Team No. 3 won over No. 4, 1,395 to 1,273, on the Gasco range.

M. Barnhardt's 285 score for No. 1 team was the best individual effort of the week with teammate Cy Hassinger posting 284. J. Myers, of No. 3, shot 282 and his teammate, H. Ferguson posted 281. There were three 280 shooters—R. Harbaugh of No. 1, L. Arntz, of No. 3 and Hughes of No. 4.

Next matches pit No. 1 against No. 4 on the Gasco range Wednesday and No. 2 against No. 3 on the YMCA range Thursday.

Chandler Orders Durocher to Attend Tuesday's Fitzsimmons Case Probe

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(AP)—Leo Durocher is in hot water with Commissioner A. B. Chandler again.

Leo, who only a year ago ended a season-long exile imposed upon him by the commissioner for "conduct detrimental to baseball," has been ordered by Chandler to appear for a hearing on the "Freddy Fitzsimmons case." The inquiry is set for Tuesday at the Blackstone hotel in Chicago.

Fitzsimmons, who came to work as coach under Leo several weeks ago, while on the Boston Braves' reserve list, also has been summoned before the commissioner In addition, Chandler has ordered New York President Horace Stoneham to send another representative Stoneham selected Edgar Feeley, treasurer of the club.

Feeley and Durocher will have to convince Chandler there was no "tampering" with the former Giant pitcher when he switched from Boston to New York, and Fitz will be asked to explain why he did not inform the Brave officials of his intention to make the change.

Disturbed by whisperings that his demand for a hearing is nothing more than persecution of Durocher, the commissioner last night denied that he was "gunning" for the former Brooklyn Dodger pilot who switched to the Giants in the middle of last season.

"It is not a simple matter that can be passed off lightly," Chandler said. "Evidence has been presented to me that the New York ball club tampered with Fitzsimmons even before the 1948 season ended. If such is the case, that constitutes an outright breach of baseball law, and I would not be doing my job if I were to overlook the matter

"The fact that it concerns a club that Durocher is connected with has nothing to do with it. I would take the same action if another club were involved."

Chandler was in town to address the anual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs which closes today

Television and radio occupied the attention of the minors at yesterday's important executive session. A new amendment which would, in effect, ban any network baseball either by radio or television was adopted by unanimous vote.

Under the new rule, radio and television broadcasts would be limited to stations located within the "home territory" of the club. That "home territory" was defined to include all land within the circumference of a circle having a radius of 50 miles, with its center at the ball park.

All proposals to change the "bonus rule" were defeated, including Cincinnati's idea of a new $6,000 maximum payment in all classifications before a man could be designated a "bonus player."

As matters stand, payments are regulated on a graduated scale, ranging from $800 in Class D to $6,000 in the majors. If this scale is violated, the player carries a "bonus player" tag for the rest of his career and his movements are restricted severely.

Atlanta of the Southern association tried to toss out the "bonus rule" altogether but it too was defeated So was a proposal by the Boston Red Sox which would have permitted "bonus players" to be optioned to the minors.

The rule forbidding signing of high school players until after their graduation was clarified. In the future they may be signed when the class with which they entered high school has graduated.

Chandler Raps O'Neil Firing

MINNEAPOLIS —(UP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler has taken an indirect swing at the Detroit Tigers for the club's abrupt firing of Manager Steve O'Neill.

Chandler said at the annual minor league convention banquet last night that "It is our mission to keep baseball on a high level."

"If you are going to fire a fellow, tell him about it first," Chandler said. "Don't let him read about it in the papers."

When Detroit General Manager Billy Evans announced that O'Neill was being dismissed as Tiger manager, O'Neill said he knew nothing about it until he read a newspaper story.

So the winter solstice, when it was stopped getting longer and started becoming shorter, was a natural time for celebration. In more barbaric nations to the north and west of Rome, the same sort of celebration took place in a different form.

Special logs were burned in a fiery tribute to Odin and Thor, mistletoe, the alien plant which grew out of the trees and which therefore seemed miraculous and sacred, was gathered; the trees which provided light and heat in the long months the sun was gone and thus had a special significance, were decked gaily in tribute.

As Christianity spread, its missionaries and ministers had difficulty in inducing the converts to refrain from these well-established customs and popular amusements indulged in by their still pagan countrymen Backsliders were most numerous at

"CHRISTMAS EVE," by the celebrated 19th century English satiric artist, George Cruikshank, illustrates the continuance of Saturnalian associations with the occasion, which made Calvinists opponents of the observance of Christmas.

Saturnalia time At last, partly because of the ineffectiveness of their arguments and denunciations, and partly due to the idea that the spread of Christianity might be aided, the church effected a compromise The effect of it was to amalgamate customs of the old pagan worship with tenets of the new religion Heathen ceremonies were transformed to solemnities of Christian festivals

The time for the observance of the Nativity was arbitrarily fixed in the season of the Saturnalia by the Roman Catholic Church, in the 4th century, but it was centuries before there was unanimity in this observance.

At one time, April 1 denoted the beginning of the calendar year, and March 25 was Christmas After January 1st became New Years Day, the Eastern church still held its Christmas on January 6 This was the case also in England and the American colonies until 1752, when Britian accepted the Gregorian calendar January 6 is still observed by some communicants, and the Armenian Church observes January 18. Altogether, Christmas has been celebrated on at least 100 different dates in various parts of the world.

PAGAN DERIVATIVES

Two synonyms for Christmas, Yule and Noel, apparently came to us from pagan times. It is suggested that Yule is derived from the Anglo-Saxons having had a conception of the sun moving in a circular path during its annual journey around the earth. Noel, the French term for Christmas, is said by philologists to come from the Latin "natalis," referring to the new birth of the sun's powers after the Winter solstice.

Gradually the pagan associations of Christmas subsided under the influence of strict Christian disciplinarians, both Roman Catholic and Protestant. At the beginning of the 18th Century, an English writer commented.

."At present, Christmas-day, if somewhat shorn of its ancient glories and unmarked by that boisterous jollity and exuberance of animal spirits which distinguished it in the time of our ancestors, is, nevertheless, still the holiday among which of all others throughout the year all classes of English society must most generally participate.

Partaking of a religious character, the forenoon of the day is usually passed in church, and in the evening the re-united members of the family assemble round the joyous Christmas-board."

AGED MATRON DIES

HUNTINGTON, W. Va —(AP)— Mrs Emma Ward, 89, South Point, O., died yesterday en route to a hospital here from burns suffered in a fire which damaged her home.

Mothers to Get Assist With Housework After Christmas

CHICAGO — (INS) — Santa Claus is going to bring a lot of hard work for the nation's small fry this year.

An International News Service survey of toy manufacturers indicates that there is a definite trend this year to toys that do actual work.

One manufacturer said it was a postwar development—a sort of turning away from toy "death-dealing" weapons. There still is some emphasis on atomic toys.

But the days of being mowed down by crossing the imaginary line of fire of warring cowboys and indians is diminishing, although it's still possible to be picked off by a die-hard old two-gun small fry.

The toy makers, with an assist from psychologists, said they have discovered that toys the kids like best are those that enable them to emulate mama and papa.

One of the latest things for little girls, for instance, is an electric vacuum cleaner, complete with a real electric motor. The "toy" makes it possible for little girls to help mother give the rugs a once over—lightly

The boys haven't been forgotten either One thoughtful firm has rigged up an electric razor—just like the one Daddy has.

It is made of plastic, has a clock-spring motor and has harmless plastic blades which move back and forth over the face

Toy makers have thought up a great many other devices to keep Junior distracted and exhausted and give Pop plenty of time to fiddle with that electric train.

There is a toy steam shovel, complete with motor, that will pick up sand, dirt or valuable vases and dump them anywhere.

For the more ombitious and stronger boys, new scale model road graders—equipped with balloon tires, a steering wheel, and a bulldozer type scraper are available.

This is just the thing for tired fathers who have ruts in the driveway of the old homestead. It is guaranteed to keep Junior away from the electric train for hours—if not weeks.

Of course, if the kid gets loose among the rose bushes with this contraption, that's another matter.

For fathers who are kept on the jump by the eccentricities of the family bus, there are a whole variety of appropriate Christmas gifts for junior. These include toy gas stations complete with air hoses, grease racks, gas pumps and car washers.

FAIR OR FOUL

by LAWTON CARVER

International News Service

NEW YORK—(INS)—James G. Conzelman, one of the nation's best known roughhouse piano-players, is likely to run into considerable difficulty in getting his Chicago Cardinals in tune for a victory march next Sunday.

They play the Chicago Bears, a name which is enough to make strong men quake and piano-players go into a dirge.

The winners of the game at Chicago will qualify the club to meet the Philadelphia Eagles for the National league championship. The Bears are favorites.

RECORDS IDENTICAL

The clubs have identical records of 10 victories and one defeat for the season.

The Cardinals as defending champions by virtue of their play-off win over the Eagles in 1947 should be given a slight edge in the season finale for both ball clubs, but the Bears have been established a mite stronger.

The Bears, in fact, already have been set up to take not only the Cardinals but to go right on to the championship a week later against the Eagles.

These are not the ferocious Bears we used to know but plainly they are tough enough to convince everybody that they are hard to take.

Malbe the old piano-thumper, Conzelman, will be able to do something about that, and in this connection one thing is certain—he will be giving it the old college try along the sidelines.

The Bears have the better balance when you consider offense and defense.

On the offense the Cardinals have been better to the extent of gaining 2,367 yards rushing to 2,300 for the Bears and they have passed for 2,017 yards against 1,584.

However, the Cardinals have allowed 1,364 yards rushing against 1,051 for the Bears and allowed 2,210 on passes against 1,527.

Figure all this out and you will find that the Bears have a distinct edge on the ground and on passing. In the latter respect the Bears have an edge of 57 yards plus against 193 yards minus.

Manager Signs

SPRINGFIELD —(AP)— Catcher Anthony Ravish signed last night as playing-manager of the Springfield Giants in the Class D Ohio-Indiana Baseball league.

Tall Quintet Will Invade Tyger Lair

Despite their erratic shooting exhibition against the Alumni Tuesday, Senior high school's basketball Tygers will be rated a favorite when they meet Cleveland Collinwood tonight in the local gym.

It will be the second outing against high school competition and the first at home. Sophomore squads of the two schools will get the program underway at 7 p. m.

TYGERS FAVORED

Chiefly on their showing in a 49-30 victory at Elyria last Friday must the Tygers be considered favorites. In that game they connected on 40 per cent of their shots while against the Alumni the figure was only a little better than 16 per cent as they lost 26-22.

In both contests, however, Coach Vern Hoffman's charges displayed a fine fast-breaking offense and a decided superiority over their opponents in speed. If the shooting tonight is anywhere near that of last Friday, the Bengals should have an easy time.

Hoffman said this morning that he had been stressing shot drills in practice, and that he would probably stick to the same starting lineup used in the first two games.

This means that Jimmy Anderson and Willie Fowler will start at forwards, Norb Shibinski at center and A. C. Jenkins and Paul "Pinky" Ferguson at guards.

FOWLER HURT

Fowler's service may be limited, however, as he came out of the Alumni game with a badly bruised ankle. He will be replaced by Ed Schmitt.

Collinwood will bring a team, which although having lost its only two starts, will present a problem in height. Sadlock, the Cleveland center, stands six-three while a forward, Dalthi, and a guard, Carlson, are both six-two. Sadlock, Carlson, and another guard, Pulumbo, are the only men with any first team experience from last year.

Barons Hit Basement

The Cleveland Barons slid back into last place today after being "snowed under" by an avalanche of Indianapolis goals last night at the Caps home ice.

Indianapolis joined Pittsburgh and Buffalo in a three way tie for second place in the western division of the American Hockey league by blasting Cleveland, 11-3.

Conn to Square Off Against Confident Joe Louis Tonight

CHICAGO—(UP)—Billy Conn, the Pittsburgh kid, steps into the ring with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis for the third time tonight and this time he's hoping for another shot at the title, not the crown itself.

"If I knock him down," Conn said, "I'll demand another chance at the championship."

"If I can knock him out, I'm going to do so," he added.

Louis recognized that Conn was trying for another title bid, and he said he was ready to put on his best fight against the man whom he rates the toughest challenger he ever faced.

"Conn is not going to get me off guard," Louis said. "I know he's trained for the last two months for this match. He's the best boxer I've ever been up against.

"I hope he doesn't run as much as he did in the last fight and I don't think he will."

Unknown Pro, Stranahan Pace Field of 139 In Miami Open

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—A field of 139 of the nation's best golfers went out today in an effort to overtake an unknown professional and a leading amateur in the $10,000 Miami Open tournament.

Stan Straszowski, Winsted, Conn., pro, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., amateur, carded four under par 66's yesterday to lead the way into the second round of the 72-hole event over the 6,735-yard Miami Springs course.

Straszowski, who never won a major tournament in 13 years as a professional, will be 30 years old Sunday and he'd like to wind up the tournament on his birthday with the $2,000 first prize money.

Defending Champion Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., had regulation figures of 35-35—70.

Warren Wants Land For Recreation Area

Appleseed Five Tripped, 40-29

MT. VERNON — Mansfield's Johnny Appleseed junior high school fell before the Mt. Vernon reserves, 40-29 here yesterday. It was the first defeat of the season for Appleseed.

The Appleseed team was completely "off" as the larger Yellowjackets scored with little difficulty. Fred Zahn and Joe Diemer were the best of the Mansfield combine.

The Pioneer eighth graders did manage to win, however, defeating the local second-stringers, 33-25. Bill Turner led Appleseed with 15 points.

Rifle League Opens Season

The four teams comprising the Mansfield City Rifle League fired their first matches of the season this week. Yesterday Team No. 1 beat No. 2 by a 1,403 to 1,245 total on the YMCA range while Wednesday Team No. 3 won over No. 4, 1,395 to 1,273, on the Gasco range.

M. Barnhardt's 285 score for No. 1 team was the best individual effort of the week with teammate Cy Hassinger posting 284. J. Myers, of No. 3, shot 282 and his teammate, H. Ferguson posted 281. There were three 280 shooters—R. Harbaugh of No. 1, L. Arntz, of No. 3 and Hughes of No. 4.

Next matches pit No. 1 against No. 4 on the Gasco range Wednesday and No. 2 against No. 3 on the YMCA range Thursday.

Chandler Orders Durocher to Attend Tuesday's Fitzsimmons Case Probe

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(AP)—Leo Durocher is in hot water with Commissioner A. B. Chandler again.

Leo, who only a year ago ended a season-long exile imposed upon him by the commissioner for "conduct detrimental to baseball," has been ordered by Chandler to appear for a hearing on the "Freddy Fitzsimmons case." The inquiry is set for Tuesday at the Blackstone hotel in Chicago.

Fitzsimmons, who came to work as coach under Leo several weeks ago, while on the Boston Braves' reserve list, also has been summoned before the commissioner. In addition, Chandler has ordered New York President Horace Stoneham to send another representative. Stoneham selected Edgar Feeley, treasurer of the club.

Feeley and Durocher will have to convince Chandler there was no "tampering" with the former Giant pitcher when he switched from Boston to New York, and Fitz will be asked to explain why he did not inform the Brave officials of his intention to make the change.

Disturbed by whisperings that his demand for a hearing is nothing more than persecution of Durocher, the commissioner last night denied that he was "gunning" for the former Brooklyn Dodger pilot who switched to the Giants in the middle of last season.

"It is not a simple matter that can be passed off lightly," Chandler said. "Evidence has been presented to me that the New York ball club tampered with Fitzsimmons even before the 1948 season ended. If such is the case, that constitutes an outright breach of baseball law, and I would not be doing my job if I were to overlook the matter.

"The fact that it concerns a club that Durocher is connected with has nothing to do with it. I would take the same action if another club were involved."

Chandler was in town to address the anual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs which closes today.

Television and radio occupied the attention of the minors at yesterday's important executive session. A new amendment which would, in effect, ban any network baseball either by radio or television was adopted by unanimous vote.

Under the new rule, radio and television broadcasts would be limited to stations located within the "home territory" of the club. That "home territory" was defined to include all land within the circumference of a circle having a radius of 50 miles, with its center at the ball park.

All proposals to change the "bonus rule" were defeated, including Cincinnati's idea of a new $6,000 maximum payment in all classifications before a man could be designated a "bonus player."

As matters stand, payments are regulated on a graduated scale, ranging from $800 in Class D to $6,000 in the majors. If this scale is violated, the player carries a "bonus player" tag for the rest of his career and his movements are restricted severely.

Atlanta of the Southern association tried to toss out the "bonus rule" altogether but it too was defeated. So was a proposal by the Boston Red Sox which would have permitted "bonus players" to be optioned to the minors.

The rule forbidding signing of high school players until after their graduation was clarified. In the future they may be signed when the class with which they entered high school has graduated.

Chandler Raps O'Neil Firing

MINNEAPOLIS —(UP)— Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler has taken an indirect swing at the Detroit Tigers for the club's abrupt firing of Manager Steve O'Neill.

Chandler said at the annual minor league convention banquet last night that "It is our mission to keep baseball on a high level."

"If you are going to fire a fellow, tell him about it first," Chandler said. "Don't let him read about it in the papers."

When Detroit General Manager Billy Evans annonuced that O'Neill was being dismissed as Tiger manager, O'Neill said he knew nothing about it until he read a newspaper story.

Madison After Second Victory at Mt. Vernon

Uphill Fight Seen As Rams Risk Record

Coach Blaine Dowler's Madison Rams will hit the road to Mt. Vernon tonight in quest of their second basketball victory of the season and, as usual, it will take an upst for them to get it.

The Mt. Vernon team beat Galion, 53-50, last week, and is known as a swift, fast-pressing ball club. Added to this fact, the Yellow Jackets will be playing on their own large floor, while the majority of the Rams have had no experience outside of the tiny Madison court.

LEAVE AT 5:30

The Rams are scheduled to leave the school by bus at 5:30 p. m. Twenty boys will make the trip, including a full squad of ten on both the varsity and reserve teams. Reserve preliminary will start at 7:30 p. m

Dowler announced this morning that he would stick to the same lineup which brought home victory, 45-38, in an overtime last week with Shelby.

Forward Jim Brightbill set the scoring pace last week with 15 points but any of the others are capable of breaking out in a scoring rash if paired with a weak defenseman. Joe Distl will be at the other forward with, Ray "Dutch" Bader at center, and Ed Chelski and Larry Secrist at the guards.

Madison has two home games booked for next week, playing host to Lexington Tuesday and Akron South Friday night.

Office Berth Beckons Ruel

MINNEAPOLIS —(AP)— Herold (Muddy)) Ruel, a baseball veteran of 30 years, will leave his coaching job with the Cleveland Indians and move into the club's front office as a farm club supervisor, President Bill Veeck said today.

Veeck made the announcement at the minor league meeting here and explained Ruel would assist Vice President Hank Greenberg in supervision of the Tribe's farm clubs.

Ruel, a shrewd baseball veteran who has spent more than 30 years in the game as an outstanding catcher, coach, manager and for a period of one year as assistant to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, joined the Indians a year ago with the understanding that he eventually would move into the front office. He was a bullpen coach with the world champions last year.

Ruel's transfer followed the appointment of Steve O'Neil, deposed Detroit Tiger manager, as Tribe coach.

THREE AIDES

Manager Lou Boudreau now has three assistants However, Bill McKechnie and Mel Harder, Boudreau's other two aides last season, may not return to the coaching lines. McKechnie has considered retirement because of ill health, and Harder may also be shifted into the farm system as an instructor for minor league pitchers.

Veeck was rumored to be plotting a three-way deal with the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns, in which Brownie Third Baseman Bob Dillinger would come to Cleveland, Tribe Third Sacker Ken Keltner would go to Boston and Johnny Pesky, hot corner guardian of the Red Sox, would go to St. Louis.

It was rumored that the Yanks were seeking Tribe First Baseman Eddie Robinson in a swap for either Outfielder Johnny Lindell or Catcher Yogi Berra.

Baski, Charles Clash Tonight

NEW YORK—(AP)—There is a thin possibility that tonight's 15-round bout at the Garden between Joe Baksi and Ezzard Charles will produce a logical challenger for Joe Louis' heavyweight title.

That, at least, is the idea behind it. If either man scores a knockout, then he is fairly certain to find himself in the same ring with Joe next June, getting hit. A good, clean decision might serve equally well.

If Charles, the lean Cincinnati Negro, and Baksi, an awkward clouter from Kulpmont, Pa., put on a poor fight and irritate the $12 customers, they both might as well go home and quit dreaming.

In that case, the veteran Lee Savold, now resting on his laurels —such as they are—in London, will find himself highly desirable in the eyes of the 20th Century Sporting Club which must dig up an opponent for Louis in his positively final title defense.

Former Madison Cagers Play AVC

Former Madison high school basketball stars—now playing under the name of Mitsch's Corner Store—will return to the Madison high court Saturday night.

Mitsch's will entertain AVC, also a member of the City National league, following a 7 p. m. preliminary between junior high teams from East Mansfield and Perrysville.

Eldon Pritchard, Alex Bosko, and Dick Poth were members of last year's district championship team while other former high school stars on the Mitsch team are Glenn Tschantz, Joe Miller, Leo Eldridge and Joe Radio.

Four Games Slated In County Cage Loop

Old man upset may get his first chance to show in the Richland county basketball league tonight.

A full slate of four games marks the third set of league contests, all are figured to be one-sided affairs, Lucas, Butler, Union, and Shiloh are the definite underdogs and a victory for any would be a major unthroning.

Lucas, 1-1 record holder invades Ontario, one of the two undefeated county schools. The other unbeaten squad, Lexington travels to meet winless Butler. Plymouth is host to little Shiloh and Union throws out the welcome mat for Bellville, last year's county tournament champs.

Should all games go as expected, the battle for the individual scoring lead will command a good deal of attention. Ontario's Howard Sunnucks is now setting the pace with 55 points, while Desmond Dennenwirth of Plymouth has 31. Duane Wirick of Lexington is third with 25, followed by teammate Dick Dill and Lucas' Bob Zody, who have 21 each.

BUTLER—The Butler Boosters took two games from the Plymouth Alumni last night in the Butler gym. The first-stringers won, 42-35, and the reserves took a 35-25 game.

Dwain Forbes with 15 points was the leading scorer for Coach Gene Beal's Butler quintet Butler will play at Lucas Saturday and be host to the Ontario Alumni and Ontario church team next Thursday.

Eagles Falter In Last Period

ALLIANCE, O., — (UP) — Mt. Union college basketball squad put on the pressure in the final period here last night to beat Ashland college, 44-34.

Mount led at the half, 19-14, but by the end of the third period Ashland was in the lead, 28-25. Mount put on the pressure in the final period, however, and won going away.

Bill Herman of Mount led the scoring with 17 points. Gary Cooper was high for Ashland with nine points.

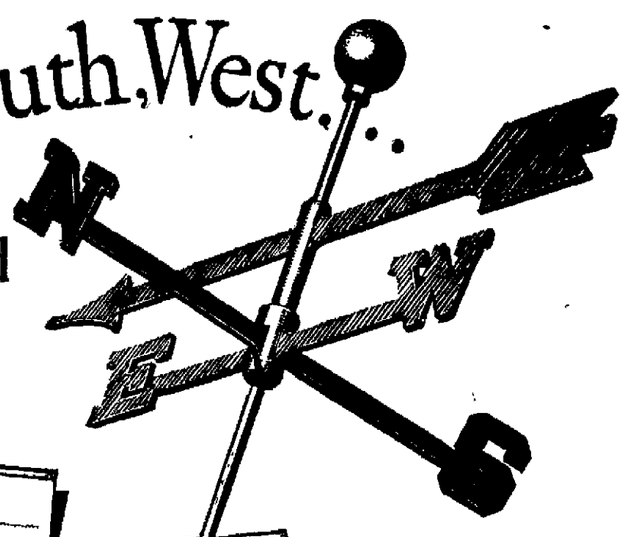
Thousands have Switched to CALVERT



JOHN W. NORTH*

has switched to Calvert because Calvert Reserve is smoother.
*of 28 Waldo St., E. Dedham, Mass.

MOSE EAST*

has switched to Calvert because Calvert Reserve is milder.
*of 3810 Broadway, New York City, N.Y.

LA VERNE SOUTH*

has switched to Calvert because Calvert Reserve is mellower.
*of 413 Waldburg Ave., E., Savannah, Ga.

WILLIAM G. WEST*

has switched to Calvert because Calvert Reserve tastes better.
*of 98 Hough Street, Lafayette, Calif.

SMOOTHER . . . THAT'S BETTER DISTILLING! Calvert is vacuum distilled by a patented low temperature process. Heat that "breaks down" and scorches the mash is avoided. Distilling gently at practically room temperature is a modern scientific miracle that helps make Calvert smoother.

MELLOWER . . . THAT'S MODERN METHODS! Calvert is produced by exclusive, modern methods. Calvert's continuous pressure cooking, for instance, means constant control over the mash, less exposure to heat . . . another reason for Calvert's unmatched uniformity, mellowness.

MILDER . . . THAT'S BLENDING KNOW-HOW! Calvert has always been the House of Blends. All Calvert whiskies are distilled especially for blending with each other. Calvert maintains an unequalled "library" of over 200 fine blending whiskies and spirits for blending purposes.

TASTES BETTER . . . THAT'S QUALITY CONTROL! Calvert quality is safeguarded from grain to bottling by advanced scientific controls. Too, Calvert is taste-tested by a "Consumer Jury" of folks like you . . . to make sure it's the whiskey most palatable to the most people.

Why don't you switch to
Calvert Reserve
It's Smoother, Mellower, Tastes Better
